

Jr. Farmer Public Speaking Contest

Gerrard Brennan, of Melrose Club, First—Miss Joan McCurdy, Rawdon, Second

The Public Speaking Contest, which was sponsored by the Hastings County Junior Farmers' Association, was held in the Ivanhoe Township Hall, on Tuesday evening, November 4th, at 8.30 p.m., with Mr. Carl Bateman acting as chairman.

There were in all eight Junior Farmer young people taking part in the contest and two in the Amateur Entertainment contest.

Mr. Gerald Brennan, from the Melrose Club, speaking on the subject, "Soil Conservation," was the winner of the contest, while Miss Joan McCurdy, of the Rawdon Club, speaking on "Our Heritage and Our Destiny," was a very close second. In third place was John Huffman, Vice-President of the County Association, who very capably dealt with the subject "Supplementary Education for Farm Youth." Others taking part in the Public Speaking were as follows: Velma Rollins of the Madoc Club, who spoke on "Homemaking Clubs"; Clayton Ritz of the Thurlow Club, whose subject was "The Value of Organizing a Cooperative"; Ruth Empey of the Madoc Club, spoke on "Rural Housing"; Keith Harrison of the Hungerford Club, "Democracy in the World Today"; and Wm. Aylsworth of the Madoc Club on "Way Communism Constitutes a Threat to Agriculture."

There was only one entry in the Amateur Entertainment, which was provided by George Blatherwick and Earl Badgley, both of the Melrose Club. This skit was entitled "Crazy Comebacks" and was very well presented by the two boys.

The judges for the evening were Rev. W. H. V. Walker, Stirling; Mr. W. A. Sutherland, Stirling; and Mr. Wesley Down, Hilton, who is President of the Ontario Junior Farmers' Association.

The winner of this contest, Mr. Gerald Brennan, will compete in the District Competition at Stirling on November 29th.

Suitable prizes will be presented to all who took part in the contest at the annual get-together in Madoc, on November 28th.

Fred Wilson, M.P.P., Speaker At St. Paul's Women's Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of St. Paul's Women's Association was held at the home of Mrs. R. B. Duffin on Tuesday evening, November 4th, with a splendid attendance.

The opening exercises and business portion of the meeting were conducted by the President, Mrs. Walter Elliott. Following the reading of the minutes and correspondence, the Secretary reported eleven cards and three letters sent during the past month. The October visiting committee, Mrs. P. Utman and Mrs. R. Christie, reported sixteen calls made during the month. Mrs. C. I. Hutton and Mrs. H. L. Fair will act as the visiting committee for the current month.

Mrs. W. Preston, convenor of the Friendly Workers' Group, gave a very interesting and complete report of their work during the past month and this very energetic group gave another donation of twenty dollars to the W.A. A complete financial report of the W. A. was given by the treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Thompson.

During the business portion of the meeting definite plans were made for the bazaar, sale of fancy aprons, knitted goods, home cooking and afternoon tea to be held in the church parlours. The W.A. decided to cater for the two meals in connection with the Junior Farmers' Convention to be held in Stirling on Saturday, November 29th. The complete slate of officers were re-elected for the year 1948 and will be presented at the December meeting.

The programme was capably directed by Mrs. R. Finkle, convenor of the program committee. After the singing of Hymn 511, the responsive Scripture lesson, Psalm 72, was led by Mrs. Ted Reynolds, followed with prayer by Mrs. A. Armstrong. Mrs. G. Macdonald and Mrs. Ivah Thain delighted the W.A. with a pleasing duet, "There's Sunshine All Along the Way of Life."

The guest speaker was Fred Wilson, M.P.P., who spoke on the assigned topic, "Our Parliament." In a most interesting and instructive address, Mr. Wilson traced the history of the Legislature and gave a vivid description of the opening ceremonies and parliamentary procedure at a session.

The president very graciously thanked Mr. Wilson for coming to the W.A. meeting and giving his illuminative address. The meeting closed with the mizpah benediction. During the social period a very dainty luncheon was served by the committee in charge. Mrs. Gordon Bailey voiced the appreciation of all the ladies to the hostesses, Mrs. R. B. Duffin, Mr. Fred Wilson, M.P.P., all who took part on the programme and the entire committee in charge.

G. L. JOHNSTONE

Local Bank Manager Transferred To Tweed Branch

It was with a good deal of regret that residents of Stirling and district learned this week that Mr. G. L. Johnstone, the popular manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, was to be transferred to Tweed.

Mr. Johnstone came to Stirling from West Lorne, Ontario, in March, 1943, and during his stay here has taken an active part in all community enterprises. He was treasurer of the various Red Cross campaigns conducted since his arrival here, and was a director of the Stirling Agricultural Society. Besides his community activities he was an ardent supporter of the local ball and hockey teams and is an enthusiastic fisherman. He was a member of St. John's Anglican Church, and along with Mrs. Johnstone, has taken an active part in the activities of that church.

Mrs. Johnstone was also an active worker in the local Red Cross society. "Jerry," as he was popularly known, will be greatly missed in this district, and a host of friends will join in wishing him success in his new sphere of labour.

Mr. A. V. Greenley, of Little Current, Manitoulin Island, will succeed Mr. Johnstone and it is expected that the transfer will take place in a few weeks.

Saturday, Nov. 8th, Is Poppy Day

The local branch of the Canadian Legion is making its annual POPPY DAY appeal to the people of this community Saturday. The Poppy Fund is now a recognized institution wherever Canadian Legion exists in Canada and it serves a two-fold purpose of much merit. The money which is raised by the distribution of the Poppy — the symbol of sacrifice — is used entirely to relieve unusual distress among War Veterans and the last war and the recent conflict, and their families. At all times it has been found that the Veterans, in view of the fact that many of them have disabilities and handicaps, suffer even more than others who are out of employment, since many of them require special care and attention which they are unable to provide. This is where the Poppy Fund, raised through the sale of Poppies by the local branch of the Legion, steps in and provides relief for the situation.

There is another reason why every citizen should wear a Poppy for remembrance day. These Poppies are manufactured in the Veterans Shops of Canada, workshops in which handicapped Veterans are given sheltered employment, and in which they manufacture the hundreds of thousands of Poppies which are distributed every year at this time. By wearing a Poppy, citizens can find much satisfaction in knowing that they are helping these handicapped Veterans to obtain a livelihood which they would otherwise lack on account of their special disabilities.

Splendid Meeting St. Andrew's L.A.

Varied Program Presented Under Direction of Mrs. P. McGee at Manse Thursday

On Thursday last, thirty members of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid met at the Manse for their October meeting.

Mrs. Walker, at the piano, opened the meeting playing a hymn. Mrs. K. Ray, the president, then led in prayer. Following the singing of the hymn, "O Jesus I Have Promised", the Scripture Lesson, Psalm 32 was read by Mrs. Ray, followed with an explanation of this Psalm and prayer.

During the business part of the programme, reports were read by Gena Spry. Mrs. Walker read a letter from Mrs. Davis in which she expressed her thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Walker and the ladies who assisted with refreshments and helped to make the social hour in the Manse a happy memory for each of the family.

Mrs. Percy McGee took charge of the programme prepared by Mrs. A. McGee, Mrs. Cameron Montgomery, Mrs. Walker and herself. This part of the programme opened with the hymn "Come Ye Thankful People, Come." Mrs. Hammond read a poem, "Life's Symphony." A solo by Mrs. Don McIntosh, accompanied by Mrs. C. Fargy at the piano, "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Chas. Fargy gave a very interesting paper, choosing the Autumn and Thanksgiving as her subject. Beginning with a fine word picture of nature in the autumn, Mrs. Fargy carried her listeners back through the years to the time when Indians roamed the woodlands—to them the autumn was a time of hunting. The Indian costumes, as seen in the Indian autumn picture as did their campfires and bright baskets, and to them surely this Indian Summer must have been a season of contentment.

The story of the Pilgrim Fathers and the first Thanksgiving should make us realize the last of plenty, with comforts and conveniences, truly thankful for all God's goodness to us. If the thanks which Canadians give is little more than a smug, self-congratulation, it falls short of what Thanksgiving ought to be. How closely the meaning of autumn and thanksgiving are connected, it is a very beautiful occupation to count your blessings — name them one by one.

Mrs. R. Williams rendered a piano solo, "Farewell to the Piano," by Beethoven. Mrs. E. Cain read a poem written by an unknown soldier in the recent war, just before the zero hour, entitled, "And God Was There." The author was killed in battle. Following the singing of a hymn and the Mizpah Benediction, a contest entitled, "Menu For Ladies' Aid," was conducted by Gena Spry.

A lovely lunch was served by the committee in charge. Mrs. Hermiston moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Walker and all who assisted.

Past Grand's Club

The Past Grand's Club of Laurel Rebekah Lodge were entertained at the home of Mrs. Geo. Bailey and Miss Evelyn Bailey, Harold, on Wednesday, October 22nd. Twelve members and six visitors were present and a programme of readings and contests was presented under the direction of Miss Florence Maynes and Mrs. G. Megginson and was much enjoyed.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Geo. Megginson, Thursday, Nov. 27th. The thanks and appreciation of the members was ably voiced to Mrs. Bailey and Miss Bailey by Miss Florence Maynes.

St. Andrew's W.W.S.

This is the traditional time of thanksgiving for the bounties of nature. The earth puts forth her increase, and man is enriched thereby. But let us not forget to recognize God as the giver of every good and perfect gift. Pity the man who says that he has only himself to thank for the good things that he enjoys. He has health — yes, because he has taken care of himself; he has a home — yes, because he saved his money and bought it; he has bread — yes, because he earned it. But he needs to learn that "back of the loaf is the savoury flour; and back of the flour the mill and back of the mill is the wheat and the shower and the sun and the Father's Will." All the best things in this world are scattered with a lavish hand and we do not know how rich we are until we sit down to reckon our treasures: the love of parents, the affection of brothers and sisters, the sympathy of friends and companionship of books, of men. While thousands see only the darkness and feel the gloom, let us in this favoured land recall the old hymn:

Count your blessings, see what God hath done, the gift of children. The joys of home are given to all sorts and conditions. Count your blessings, name them one by one.

And it will surprise you what the Lord hath done.

In the Scripture we also read "Rejoice in the Lord, and again I say rejoice." If we took the trouble to look them up, we would find more than 500 rejoicing texts. Surely this proves that God wants us to live happy, rejoicing lives. Christ gave Himself to save the world and free it from sin, and if we are worthy of him we will make our thanksgiving day the beginning of new life, more devoted to fulfilling this work of redemption and bringing in His Kingdom.

GIVE THANKS

To him who reigns above the skies
Now let your Psalms of praise arise,

And for the love that never dies,
Give Thanks.

For harvest time that fills the store
For sun that shines for rains that pour,

That earth brings forth its fruit once more
Give thanks.

For life and health, for toil and play,
For care and sorrow passed away,
To Him who blest thee day by day,
Give thanks.

Uncle Hy Says

(Copyright 1947, H. M. Moore)

November comes and hunters hold are up before the morn is old, and gun in hand and dressed in red, through the hills will quickly spread, and when a deer comes into view, they'll shoot it down, that's what they'll do.

November comes, and in the town, where people dine and dance and gown, the last football is being played, the plans for hockey have been made, a show or dance the day to end, perhaps a visit with a friend.

November comes but ere it goes, the hunters come with bucks and does, and there'll be feasts and there'll be mirth, for men and hunters from their birth, but what they'll tell about the same as Esau told when after game.

THIS IS THE TRUTH

The man-in-the-street has been told again and again that there has been so much materials and labor used in the construction of theatres and amusement halls in Canada that this has been in large part responsible for housing shortages, the failure of sufficient dwellings, apartment houses, duplexes, etc., to be built. But it is learned in official quarters here now, that while in the past year more money has been spent on such purposes, yet theatre construction has been far less involved than the man-in-the-street has been led to believe. In fact, in 1946, says the latest official information here, $2,535,117 was spent on new construction of theatres and amusement halls and $797,499 for additions, alterations and repairs of such places as compared with $1,044,981 and $425,555 respectively in 1945, with the construction industry's total expenditures for new construction in 1946 totalling no less than $242,282,254 and for additions, alterations and repairs, $128,492,236. Obviously, theatres and amusement halls formed an almost insignificant proportion of such operations, though stories to the contrary have been heavily publicized.

TRENTON MAN WINS $1,300

Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation of Cleveland in its $200,000 design-for-progress program. He submitted a method of producing economically arc-welded steel hulls for pleasure craft.

TOO HEAVY TO BLOW

The North Hastings Review reports that a Madoc guest went to Coe Hill last week-end to view the destruction wrought by the tornado, a few weeks ago. On the home-site of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, tornado victims, the former Madocer picked up a book which was partly buried in the rubble. It was the 1,200-page volume of "Gone With The Wind."

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

PAY 50% FREIGHT CARLOAD SHIPMENTS ON FEEDER CATTLE

In order to relieve congestion resulting from the slowing down of cattle marketings during the period of the packing house strike, and to assist in the movement of feeder cattle from areas in Western Canada in which there is insufficient winter feed, the Right Hon. James Gardiner announced on October 23rd that he has arranged for allowance of a refund of 50 per cent of the actual freight charges on carload shipments billed to Eastern Canada during the remainder of the calendar year.

Shipments limited to steers born after January 1st, 1944 and to heifers born after January 1st, 1945 may be billed from any point in the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta or Saskatchewan to any point east of the province of Manitoba.

The freight refund will be payable when the applicant is in a position to certify that the cattle have been retained in his ownership for a period of at least three months from the date of shipment. To facilitate prompt payment of refund, it is important that a shipment be consigned to the prospective applicant. Where the consignee shown on the freight bill is other than the applicant, it will be the obligation of the latter to satisfy the Dominion Department of Agriculture that the cattle in respect to which application for the freight refund is made are those covered by the accompanying freight bill.

Applications for freight refunds should be made to the Assistant Director, Production Service, Live Stock, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and must be accompanied by receipted freight bills and by affidavits on forms furnished by the Department indicating that requirements have been complied with.

MANY ADVANTAGES INSULATION ON FARMS

Methods of planned insulation are being more generally adopted not only for the farm home itself but for all animal shelters on the farm. Insulated homes are more comfortable; they cost less to heat in the winter, and during hot summer days they are more easily kept cool.

Live-stock buildings are seldom heated, animal heat being relied upon to keep the building comfortable. Such buildings, says G. B. Harrison, Dominion Experimental Station, Swift Current, Sask., should be insulated to conserve this animal heat as much as possible. Concrete floors will be warmer if they are built over a cinder fill. Cinders have a greater insulating value than gravel, stone, or the earth over which a concrete floor is often poured.

The walls of frame buildings may be filled with insulating material, such as wood shavings, sunflower seed hulls or some of the commercial insulating materials such as vermiculite or mineral wool. The space between the joists of the ceiling may be partially filled with these, or the loft may be filled with hay or straw.

If moisture finds its way into the insulation in walls or ceilings, trouble may be expected from condensation. Sills and studs may start decaying. To prevent water vapour passing through to the cold outer layers of the insulation, a vapour-proof material should be used on the warm side of the wall. Two coats of an oil paint will give fairly good results. Better results will be obtained by using vapour-proof paper, a speciality which is sold by most lumber dealers.

A tight, well-insulated building is easier to ventilate than an uninsulated drafty structure. If live stock or poultry are to be profitable, their health should be safeguarded by properly built, well-insulated buildings. Old buildings may be insulated and made weatherproof, by filling the space between the studs of frame buildings with shavings or mineral wool. This can be done by removing a board near the ceiling or under the eaves. In some cases, mineral wool is blown in with an engine-driven blower. Stone, concrete, brick, or frame walls may be insulated by fibre boards. If desired, these boards may be covered with ordinary plaster, or with a Portland cement plaster. This would be particularly suitable for dairy barns, milk houses, and other places where sanitation is very important.

Hello Homemakers! To-day we interviewed several homemakers who are practising thrifty ways to conserve electricity. These women suggested that we ask other users of power to be mindful of the number of switches turned on unnecessarily.

Mrs. V. M. recommends four thrifty ways to use the electric oven: (1) The average oven has accommodation for at least 2 or 3 dishes at once. It is necessary, however, to select dishes

(2) Oven companions do not necessarily have to be table companions. A dessert for next day's lunch (custard, baked fruit, etc.) or even the cereal (for the next morning, may be in the oven along with to-night's dinner. (3) Select baking dishes to fit the oven racks. Too large ones absorb more heat and stop circulation of heat. (4) Do not place dishes on lower shelf directly under those on the top shelf, if you wish foods to brown evenly.

Mrs. G. T. points out ways to save electricity using a hot plate or range-top: (A skillet or chicken fryer with a cover is ideal to use for a plate meal since the utensil is shallow and cooking time is reduced.

(1) A set of three saucepans which fit together over one element is economical equipment. Cook 2 vegetables in one, pudding in another and poach fish in the third section.

(2) The double boiler is useful in this regard since food such as boiled tongue or braised brisket may simmer in the lower part while a pudding cooks in the upper part.

(4) Quick-cooking desserts may be prepared economically on surface elements. For example steam the batter puddings or custards in individual greased custard cups. Or make milk puddings on the element turned to OFF position as soon as you have brought the milk to simmering point.

(5) Top-of-stove scones or biscuits can be baked in a heavy frying pan instead of preheating oven for a single purpose.

(6) Bavarian sponges require a small amount of heat. The gelatine may be dissolved in a dipper over the tea kettle and the dessert finished at the kitchen table according to recipe.

(7) Fruit dumplings are time and fuel-saving foods. Cook fruit in a little syrup. Add 1 beaten egg, 1 tsp. sugar and enough milk to moisten 1 cup prepared biscuit mix. Drop by spoonful on top of simmering fruit and juice. Cover and let simmer, without removing saucepan so dumplings will not be crowded.

(8) Pancakes are quick to cook—saving electricity. Serve with fruit juice or left-over stewed fruit.

(9) Thicken cream sauce on partially cooked vegetables instead of making it in a separate saucepan.

(10) Steam left-over slices of fruit loaf over vegetables and serve with cream for an easy dessert.

In discussing the conservation of power with Mrs. T. C. M., she told us of the wise use of her refrigerator. She said, "Why don't you tell folks not to put unnecessary bottles and bags in their refrigerator." That's true, unless sauces or salad oils are opened they keep on the shelf. Only wax paper cartons, covered refrigerator dishes are allowed for cold storage—bags absorb "cold" and space. In these days of power conservation refrain from serving too much home-made ice-cream and defrosting the refrigerator regularly reduces the operative time of the motor.

J. F. MACDONALD

Professor of English, University of Toronto

"There are no such teachers now in the public schools of Ontario. It is almost sixty years since I first sat under McIntyre but his picture is etched on my memory in lines too deep for time to efface or even blur.

He was a wiry man, about five feet six in height, weighing perhaps a hundred and twenty pounds, very light on his feet and quick and graceful in his movements. He taught Highland dancing and bagpipe playing at the Caledonian Games, which crowds thronged to, when I was a boy in Glengarry. In school he always wore a white shirt with wing-collar, a black cataway coat, and gray striped trousers. He had a fascinating trick of locking his thumbs under his coat tails and with the out-turned palms gently flapping the skirt of the coat out and up as he prowled about, while we worked like beavers. He kept by preference to the back of the room and so each of us was quite sure that his sharp eyes were on us. And they were, as we soon discovered if we looked around.

"Have you finished your task, Macdonald?"

"No sir, but—"

"Then fix your attention on what you are doing. Learn to save time by concentrating."

If we didn't learn to concentrate, it was not through any lack of vigilance and admonition by McIntyre.

Oddly enough I have no clear memory of his teaching. He spent very little time in trying to draw information or ideas out of us. He did not encourage "self-expression." As he frequently reminded us, we did not know enough about anything, except perhaps fishing and dodging work, to have the right to express an opinion on it. An opinion, he said, to be worth anything, must be based on knowledge and common-sense. God and our parents were responsible for such common-sense as we had (and his sniff implied that they had taken their responsibility lightly) but he intended to pack such knowledge into us as we could take and hold. He did a good job. For, as I see now, he was content to set us the dull task of working out endless examples of it, as is now the fashion. McIntyre would tell us that, earned with teaching us to acquire sound working habits and to use such wits as we had. Whenever we came to a new principle in arithmetic, he did not explain the principle first and the problem he had put on the blackboard exemplified a new principle in mathematics. We had not had anything just like it before. "Now read it through carefully and see if you can find a way of your own to get the answer. I doubt it will beat you."

At that challenge we puckered our faces into lines and settled down to the game. It was fun.

One day, when we had worried longer than usual over such a question, McIntyre still kept walking up and down the aisles and sniffing irritably whenever he paused to inspect what each of us was doing. My pulse rate jumped when his shadow fell on my desk as he bent over to look at my solution. There were no sniffs. He straightened up, walked briskly toward his desk with his coat tails flapping faster and higher than usual. Turning around he fixed me with a stern regard; but there was no menace in his tone as he remarked: "Well, I see you didn't let it beat you. You left out some of the steps in the logical process, but you jumped in the right direction and you arrived at the right place." And then, appraisingly, with his head on one side, he passed judgement: "At times, Macdonald, you show glimmerings of intelligence. Put your solution on the board, sir."

That is far and away the finest compliment ever paid me. Many a time the memory of that stern praise has come flooding back to humble my mind and lift up my heart.

As I try to recall those far-off days in the old four-room brick school, it seems to me that McIntyre had a far more important position in the two villages he served than a public school principal can have today. His opinion was respected and his advice was sometimes asked by our parents. Moreover, he settled a good many questions that today would be decided by the school board. There was, for example, the problem put before us in the last period on that exciting morning when he picked up a slim little book bound in royal blue cloth with its title stamped in gilt letters. Almost quivering with indignation, he held up the shiny little book between thumb and forefinger for us all to see.

"This little book," he thundered, "is the latest atrocity inflicted on a long-suffering public by the fool Department at Toronto." And for ten minutes he held forth on the silliness of that part of the book "miscalled Hygiene." It consisted of nothing, he assured us, but what any decent housewife had already taught her children in a cultivated community like Glengarry. The other half of the book, "miscalled Temperance," was just stuff and nonsense. It was filled with ridiculous statements about the effect of whiskey on the human stomach. We were impressed by this argument, for we all knew that McIntyre ought to know about the effect of whiskey. Not that he ever was drunk in school; but it was said that he sometimes took a little too much at New Year's time. He went on to explain that there was to be a new entrance subject called Temperance and Hygiene at the coming examination. We could earn as much as fifty marks by merely remembering what the text-book said, and these marks could be used as a bonus to boost our total or to help us pass in a subject, if we failed in it. "And that," declared McIntyre, "I call a quite immoral proposal."

However, that was the ruling of "the fool Department," and, if even a few of us asked to have the subject taught, taught it must be. Now then, we were to explain all this to our parents at noon and report their wishes when we came back after dinner. "Tell them," he concluded, "that if we don't have to waste time on this subject we'll have more time for studying of useful subjects, and that I guarantee any pupil who works will pass the Entrance without help from this silly bonus subject." And then, as a kind of afterthought, he dropped his voice to give us a confidential hint, which we all understood was not intended for our parents: "Any week that you all work well, we'll take the last period on Friday for a bit of relaxation. I will teach you the elements of step-dancing, and, if we have enough Fridays, some of you may master the steps of the Highland Fling. Now go home and talk to your parents."

I have no recollection of the talk with my parents, but McIntyre had briefed us well. We all reported that our parents wished us to confine our studies to the regular subjects. The dancing lessons started on Friday of that week. We must have worked well on a good many weeks, for we all learned some of the steps, and a few even mastered the Highland Fling to the great delight of McIntyre.

It was possible in the distant days of which I write, for a teacher to be a normal human being with the usual rights and privileges of a grown-up person. McIntyre made full use of them all. One morning when spring was in the air and the school room much too hot, he singled out my seat-mate for an errand. "Macpherson, fetch me a drink from the pump, and see you rinse the mug well." Now I knew Macpherson had "lifted" a flask of Scotch whiskey from a farmer's overcoat pocket as he rode to school that morning on a load of logs. He had cached the flask in a lingering snow bank. So, when he marched in a few minutes later with the half-pint tin from the pump, I was not surprised at his whisper to watch McIntyre. As the tin neared the master's lips, it stopped short, and we saw his nostrils contract as he sniffed the contents. He took a cautious sip. With the flicker of nectar. But we both noticed that just far enough in our direction to suggest the motion of drinking a health, and acknowledged an errand well done with a hearty, "Thank you, Macpherson, thank you." And that was all Macpherson ever heard about his gift of nectar. But we both noticed that when the tin was empty, half an hour later, and we were wrestling with a reading lesson, McIntyre walked stiffly erect about the room and garnished his explanations with free and fervent quotations from the Bible.

He was a great teacher, for we did not have to unlearn in later years anything that he taught us. He built the foundation of our learning on bedrock. The fifteen minutes' daily drill in mental arithmetic made it easy for his pupils to do swiftly and accurately in their heads all the little sums in addition that seem to give clerks so much trouble nowadays. And in the conduct of life his guidance was as

"Look, Daddy...
...it nearly fits!"

"You bet it does, son. You'll soon be racing down the old college gridiron."

"Will I really go to college, Daddy?"

"You certainly will... I'm making sure of that, now. Mummy and I've got a Savings Account at the Bank of Montreal that's growing just like you."

Many Canadian fathers—whether they had the chance to go to college themselves or not—are now saving at the B of M... making sure their sons will have that opportunity. They've learned from experience how helpful a sound education is to real success in life... and they know that a Savings Account at the B of M is a sound way to provide for it.

Your son's college education is too important to leave till tomorrow. Why not start a Savings Account at the B of M today and make it grow with him.

W. Neelands performing the ceremony before an altar banked with flowers.

Stirling Rawdon and Marmora R.E.C. Convention

The annual convention of the Stirling, Rawdon and Marmora Education Council held its annual convention in Springbrook United Church on Friday October 24th.

Rev. P. H. Christensen took charge of the opening exercises. Mr. George Williams spoke on behalf of the year's work and the Secretary-treasurer gave the financial report also the statistical report showing 11 out of 14 Sunday Schools reporting, with a total of 807 members.

Rev. L. Shorten, O.R.E.C. representative, spoke on "The Meaning and Place of Worship in Christian Education." He said "In Christian Education we have a threefold aim: (1) instruction; (2) inspiration, and (3) training. It is not what we know but how we behave that really is important. Have we really learned to worship? All worship periods should have the threefold aim. To bring more people to the presence of God should be our first main duty of worship; to bring people to see the greatness of God; to the realization of their own humiliation and as a result hear Him speak in those loving tones.

"To have and bring to others our own worthwhileness in the sight of God."

"To see our own possibilities, that we may do for others—thus being a labourer in his vineyard;

"To see the greatness of God's forgiveness."

Rev. Shorten closed by saying "Worship is the responsibility of every last member of school and church. Only through worship and prayer can this be done. Leave no doubt as to the challenge of action." He stated he would not answer the question, How can this be accomplished?, but would suggest the answer, To hear happiness is to hear the song on the little girl's lips after you have shown her the way.

Mr. W. J. Cottrell spoke on "Worship In The Church School." He said too many people decide when they attend Sunday School they have attended their worship for that day, but here they were wrong, as the Sunday School was not intended to take the place of the church. He stressed the difference between the Sunday School and the Church school. He closed by saying the child must be led not pushed to worship and should be given intelligent guidance to worship God in a reverent way.

Rev. R. W. Barker, of St. Paul's, Stirling, with Rev. J. Brownlie, Marmora, at the organ, took charge of the worship period.

The next Convention will be held at Salem United Church in 1948.

The discussion groups were led by Mr. A. W. Drew, Deloro; Mrs. Jeffs, of Mount Pleasant, and Mrs. Grant Melkjohn, Springbrook.

The evening session opened with Mr. Williams' Sunday School class taking the worship period.

Rev. W. H. V. Walker led a round table discussion with Rev. C. C. Brazill and Rev. Christensen assisted by laymen Harry Brown and Geo. Watson. This was very instructive and it was decided to carry it to our next convention.

The following were elected to office—Hon. Pres., J. F. Baker and W. J. Cottrell; President, Geo. Williams; Vice-President, Ross Hoard; Sec-Treas., C. Tummon; Executive: Messrs. James Geo. Williams, Jason Baker, Don Heath, Henry Cook and Messrs. A. W. Drew, Ivan Saries, J. L. Good and Geo. Watson.

Mrs. M. McMullen, of Mt. Pleasant, rendered a pleasing solo, following which Rev. Shorten gave the final address on "There Will I Meet With Thee."

The speaker said the beginning of the Christian Church was worship.

Worship was and still is a meeting place of God, so it is more than just singing hymns.

There are four distinct essential things in worship:

1. It meets our deepest need.
2. It gives a standard by which we live our lives, thus giving us the tuning fork to tune our lives.
3. It helps us see our unworthiness, our smallness.
4. It stimulates us to do something wonderful for God. Never does earth bend so high or Heaven so low, as when we do something worthwhile for God.

The Home is called the first society of God and we need worship there. If we feel the need of worship ourselves then we can help others.

Be true to the meaning of worship; to the task of leading others to the presence of God.

Rev. J. M. Brownlie brought a very instructive and successful convention to a close.

Veterans of Two Wars Parade to Cenotaph For Service — Wreaths Deposited

Under leaden skies and a steady rain, veterans of two wars and citizens paid proud and loving tribute on Tuesday to those who gave their lives in the service of their country as Stirling observed Remembrance Day.

Close to two hundred citizens gathered at the Cenotaph for an impressive service at 10:45 a.m. Veterans of two wars, marshalled by Comrade Harold Skillicorn, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Stirling Legion, paraded to and from the Cenotaph. Barker, of St. Paul's United, Rev. W. H. V. Walker, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian, and Rev. N. Cole, of Rawdon Circuit United.

After the sounding of the Last Post two minutes' silence were observed and Rev. N. Cole offered Prayer, to be followed by the sounding of Reveille, by Bugler Bob Hulin.

Uncle Hy Says

(Copyright 1947, H. M. Moore)

Briggs called the real estate man in, and said go sell my place, it isn't that I need the cash, for that is not the case, this property I've had for long, somehow it doesn't fit, and so I think it best to sell, I'm getting tired of it.

And then one night the agent came and brought with him the ad, it is quite truthful, sir, he said, I think it reads not bad, and then he read what he had wrote, and Briggs said well, I yow, I think you better read again, there's something wrong somehow.

And so the ad. was read again, and Briggs said now that's fine, I've been looking for some time, but this is what is puzzling me, I must be blind and dumb, to think I had what I would have, right here beneath my thumb.

CAN AFFORD SAFETY

In Ontario there are many hotels without adequate fire protection. What good is a rope hanging by a third storey window? All hotels should have modern fire escapes and plenty of them. The practicability of automatic sprinkler systems should also be investigated. Owners can well afford to guarantee the safety of their guests in every possible way. —Cobourg World.

REMOVED CEILINGS ON FEED GRAINS

Effective October 22nd price ceilings were removed on oats, barley and screenings in all forms and positions. At the same time price ceilings on meat and meat products, except animal fats, were removed and the subsidies on grains used for live-stock feeding amounted to 25 cents per bushel on wheat and barley and 10 cents per bushel on oats were discontinued.

The feed grain freight assistance policy will remain in effect until the end of the current crop year, July 31st 1948.

In July the Dominion Government announced that ceilings and subsidies on feed grains would be continued for as long as price ceilings remained on any important live-stock products. It had been intended to de-control meat prices in September, but when the principal packing plants were closed down by an industrial dispute, the Government felt that it would be unwise to de-control meats at that juncture. "Now that it seems certain that the disputes in the packing industry has been settled, it is expected that meat supplies will return to normal and that ceilings can safely be removed," stated the Government.

To ensure fulfilment of Canada's overseas commitments of live-stock products, and in view of the shortage of feed grains in Canada, the Government reiterates its policy of allowing no exports of oats and barley during the current crop year.

It is anticipated that the decontrol of oats, barley and screenings will result in a freer movement to feeder positions.

PRACTICAL TESTS 2,4-D SPRAYERS

As a result of investigations carried out by the Division of Field Husbandry, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, in both Eastern and Western Canada on the application of the chemical 2,4-D for the control of weeds in grain crops, it has been determined that satisfactory results can be obtained with less than five gallons of concentrated solution per acre when applied with a turbine type of sprayer, in place of 80 to 80 gallons of more dilute solution per acre applied with the standard boom sprayer.

These findings suggested the possibility of adapting standard spray-per acre. Consequently, the collection of spray nozzles for test purposes was begun in August, 1946.

During the winter of 1946-47, ten different types and sizes of nozzles were tried to determine such characteristics as uniformity, area covered, and output of liquid over a range of 25 to 65 pounds pressure. Certain refinements were made on the test pump unit and it was decided to use this inexpensive outfit for field tests on the three most promising nozzles.

Spraying in the road tests indicated that pressure of 40 to 50 pounds were best for the nozzles selected, and in the field operations it was found that speeds up to eight and ten miles an hour are practical on reasonable level fields. A spray chart applicable to shown spaced at 12 inches has been any width of boom with the nozzles prepared.

Further information may be obtained from the Division of Field Husbandry, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, including details on the home construction of a low pressure sprayer. Information on rates of applying 2,4-D is contained in a leaflet issued by the Division, entitled "Simplifying 2,4-D" which may be obtained on request.

YOUTH ON THE FARM

Believe it or not, young people do attend Farm Forum. According to the reports of the November 3rd discussions entitled "Youth on the Farm" approximately 50% of all rural young people belonging to Forum families attend and participate in the meetings. Forum Secretaries reported that the other half didn't attend chiefly for two reasons. First, many attend local school and find lessons too tiring; and second, Monday night often conflicts with Church Young People's meetings.

The Forums say one good way to attract young people to Forums is to divide the group according to age and have the young people conduct their own discussions, then compare notes in the open discussion. Of course most Forums said be sure and have a programme which includes varied recreation.

Is farming on a par with other occupations as a career for young people? Canfield in Haldimand says definitely not. "The advancement is too slow and laborious." No. 3 Melancthon in Dufferin disagree, stating, the farm. Others stated the attitude of farming being not equal to other professions rests in the hands of farmers themselves. Gadshill in Perth says the chief contributor is "carelessness in appearance." 38 Forums said we have to get a pride in our vocation and look, act, and talk accordingly. However, the majority of Forums felt that more modern conveniences in house and barn would certainly help young people to choose the greatest of all professions — Agriculture. In Dufferin disagree, stating, decided differently and are staying on the farm.

While Forums showed keen interest in the topic "Youth on the Farm", many reports were received about the present feed grain situation. One typical report was from Perth and I quote "Prices of feed must be brought more into line with our selling prices of milk, pork, beef and eggs, or else our selling prices must be raised accordingly. Too many brood sows and hens are being disposed of and cows cannot be fed as they should be to produce milk under present conditions." Other Forums suggested that action through their local organizations should be the next move.

Varied recreation was certainly put into practice. From contests to group singing and all the variations in between were reported. At Chats Lake in Renfrew they had their variation provided by a wolf pack which was molesting neighbouring sheep, which obviously disrupted proceedings. All of which proves the 1947/48 Ontario Forum Season is well on the way.

Safeguarding telephone wires for trouble-free Service

THE WORK of burying telephone wires or placing them in overhead cable continues year after year. Today, over 4 million miles of telephone wires, 95% of our total, are in cable, safer from storms. Service interruptions caused by weather are fewer, and still our constant aim is to provide even better service.

Not only is our service becoming more dependable, but it's growing, too. We are filling orders for telephones just as fast as new equipment is available. More telephones plus more dependable service — and always at the lowest possible cost — mean greater telephone value for every user.

Mount Pleasant

Double Shower at Mt. Pleasant
McAdam Brothers Honoured

A large number of friends from Mt. Pleasant and Hoards communities and relatives from nearby points gathered at Mount Pleasant Church Hall and tendered Mr. and Mrs. William McAdam and Mrs. Douglas McAdam a party in honour of their recent marriage.

Rev. N. Cole was master of ceremonies and welcomed the newlyweds. Mrs. Will Jeffs led in a round of community singing with Mrs. Kenneth Weaver as accompanist. Mrs. Ira David read a poem, "The New House." Miss Ruth Sharp contributed a piano solo. Mrs. Jeffs delighted with guitar selections.

Mrs. Allan Simpson contributed a reading in Italian Dialect. Miss Ruth Linn and Master Ray Sharp, with Miss B. McConnell as accompanist sang, "My Dreams Are Getting Better All The Time." Mrs. Malcolm Sharp delighted with a piano solo. Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave two selections, the one was entitled, "Bridget's Disappointments."

Master Neil Hubble, of Stockdale, with his mother as accompanist, sang two humorous songs the first one being, "When Father Carved The Duck." Mr. Will Potts spoke briefly and welcomed Mrs. Doug McAdam to Mount Pleasant. Miss Betty McConnell contributed a piano solo with variations.

The two couples were invited to the front and Mr. Don Spencer read the following address of appreciation, which was signed by Messrs. Irvine Potts, Harvey Couch, Don Spencer, Ira David and Frank Spencer.
Dear Bill and Doris:-

As you have embarked on the sea of matrimony, your many friends and neighbours have gathered here to-night to extend to you and your bride our very best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life. While you have not chosen to make your home among us, you are not so far away, but that we hope you will return often. We feel assured that your new home will be influenced by your boyhood days spent at Mount Pleasant, and on these principles, which we tried to teach in our Church and Sunday School in the little red house.

The future is like an uncharted sea, but knowing you from childhood we know you have the faith and courage to face whatever problems life may present.

To Doris, a stranger to us, we hope to become better acquainted, and we welcome her to our community and our homes.

We ask you to accept our gift and may you be reminded of your friends of this community.

Mr. Bob Hoard made the presentation of a purse of money and Bill graciously thanked his friends for their kindness.

Immediately after this, Mr. Bob

Hoard read the following address to Douglas and Doris, welcoming the bride to Mount Pleasant, and this was signed by the same group of young men:

Dear Doug and Doris:-

We have taken this opportunity to extend to you our best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

We welcome Doris to our homes and community, and hope she will soon feel at home among us. We congratulate Doug on his choice of a life partner.

Life's path does not always run smoothly, but with trust and faith in each other we know you have the courage to face these problems together. We rejoice that a new home has been started, and we wish for you the best. "Four walls do not make a home," but "It takes a heap of living in a house to make it home."

We ask you to accept our gift, and with it are the very best wishes of your friends and neighbours.

Mr. Don Spencer presented the newlyweds with a purse, and Douglas graciously said "Thank You" to friends and neighbours. All sang, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and an appetizing lunch was served.

Guests of Honour At Anniversary Party

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brough on the 5th the concession of Huntingdon resounded with happiness in Thursday evening when relatives and friends gathered to felicitate them on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Brough were unaware of the preparations and while absent from home during the day relatives came and spread the tables and arranged a delicious chicken dinner for over fifty guests. The main table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake made by Mrs. Frank Brough, of Campbellford.

Mr. Kenneth Stewart, who offered the Grace, proposed a toast to the bride and groom of forty years ago, and asked Mr. H. R. Burke, Frank Brough and Arthur Brough, to express the good wishes of the relatives and present suitable gifts.

Life of Fuller forty years ago and the Brough-Burke wedding were humorously and touchingly told by Mrs. Alex Moore and Mrs. Frank Hutchison, of Detour, Mr. H. R. Receives Letter of Thanks From Eng.

The following letter was received by Mrs. W. H. V. Walker, who donated clothing to the recent W.M.S. Drive.

Dear Mrs. Walker:

I have no doubt you will be surprised to receive a letter from Gainsborough, but I have received a very nice scarf from the W.M.S., which you so kindly sent, so I thought the least I could do was to write a few lines to thank you. I expect you will have read what a rough time poor old England has had the last few years, what with the dreadful war and then the floods. I think every one is so grateful for what our kind friends over seas have done for us. Thank you all, very much.

I thought you might be interested to know there is just my husband and myself, our two sons are married. My husband had a very bad illness two years ago and I am afraid he will not be able to work again, but I am glad to say he can get out for a few hours when it is fine.

We have had a glorious summer this year, and it has helped to dry our homes quite a lot. I would be pleased to have a few lines from you if you are not too busy. I read a very busy life.

Yours Sincerely,
Mrs. F. Burnett

ENRICO CARUSO
Millions marvelled at the beauty and range of the voice of Caruso, the great operatic tenor. But how many know that Enrico was an excellent cook who delighted in the preparation of delicious meals? For this great singer, the kitchen was the scene of many a culinary triumph, as it has been, also, for kings, prime ministers, princes, presidents, cardinals, great generals, admirals, scientists, great painters, authors, musicians and sculptors.

THAT DISAPPEARING DOLLAR

The rapidly shrinking supply of U. S. dollars has been described in countless reports from this nation's capital as having created such a crisis that an emergency meeting of the Canadian Parliament had been urged for some weeks now but it can be hinted that backstage in Ottawa there is now just as much talk about the shrinking value of the Canadian dollars as necessitating such an emergency session especially since the removal of controls or subsidies has placed a steadily rising burden of higher and higher food costs on the people.

There is no doubt in informed quarters on Parliament Hill that the Government will not take any step backwards in removing controls or subsidies. This is clear. However, protests and bitterness over rising prices cannot be ignored entirely at this time as inflationary pressures disclose themselves.

The price of milk is expected to rise as feed grains move up in price and it is predicted that increases will come from cream, butter, eggs, poultry, etc. Each boost is founded on an increase in another direction. For instance, higher feeding costs are causing more poultry to be slaughtered and before long the cost of poultry, it is forecast, will rise. Likewise, reports suggest that wholesalers are trying to buy a great deal more eggs under the impression that higher feeding costs will boost the price of eggs. In brief, prices are climbing and will continue to climb in a sort of spiral of costs, with the result that there is now as much concern here on the question of how to stop this over-increasing skyrocketing of prices as well as the shrinking of the Canadian dollar's value as about the disappearance of U. S. dollars.

SILENCE AND RUMORS

For some weeks now there have been numerous rumors circulating throughout this country that the Canadian Government might possibly impose restrictions on imports from the United States in order to conserve U. S. currency as well as correct the adverse balance of trade between the two countries, with these rumors including reports that U. S. firms were stockpiling manufactured goods in Canada to beat such supposed restrictions. However, inquiries here do not seem to uphold these reports, though Canadians have been on a spending spree in U. S. Aside from higher prices influencing the total amount of such imports so far in 1947, it is learned that Canadians have been buying in U. S. more than ever this year due to shortages here and prosperity in general, though there is considerable doubt that any extensive stockpiling of goods in Canada has taken place on the part of U. S. firms.

SAID IN THE CAPITAL

"You have taught Canada that a physical handicap is not necessarily a barrier to a useful and happy life," said Veterans Minister Ian Mackenzie addressing a large group of war amputations here.

"Each community should keep its own character," commented Jacques Greber, noted French town planner who is working on plans to beautify this nation's capital.

"Until a steady flow of low-rent is started, no Canadian can be satisfied with what has been accomplished," remarked Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe on the housing problem.

"The use of the post office for lotteries is illegal and has been for years," W. J. Turnbull, Deputy Postmaster General, declared in regard to the drive against sweepstakes bookies in this country using the mails for their transactions.

"A new crusade is needed, a crusade to fire the imagination of all, particularly the younger generation, for what is at stake in nothing more or less than the saving of the world," said Sir Clutterbuck, Britain's High Commissioner to Canada, in an impressive address here.

"We should appreciate the fact that a commercial revolution is taking place in Britain," stated Col. W. G. Abel, former army public relations director overseas on his return from abroad.

"The vicious practice of lotteries and similar money raising methods must be stopped," warned Charles H. Hulise, Kiwanis International Vice-President for Canada.

"I am here to see something of the workings of the Canadian constitution," said Sir. B. N. Rau, distinguished Indian statesman, who came to Ottawa to study Canada's constitution at first hand in seeking a constitution for India.

WEEKLY WIND-UP

The little storm which blew up over the appointment of Edmond Turcotte as the new Canadian Consul General in Chicago allegedly on the ground that he was anti-American is termed "grossly exaggerated" in this capital.

This capital is starting to show signs of an exciting session of Parliament being just around the corner, December 5th, by hotel reservations and other usual symptoms.

Hello Homemakers! Honourable greased pan 8" x 8" at 350 degrees in should be made of the genius of home electric oven for 45 minutes. Cut in squares. Ever since we toured the Christmas merchandise market, we have been excited about the many new time-saving gadgets. Here are some worthwhile gifts for the homemaker.

A Wonder Clothesline: No clothespins and do clothesline prop are needed with this new galvanized wire clothesline. The four strand wire, on a pulley arrangement, has a spreader which separates the wires. The clothes can be fitted into grooves as you move the wire outward and the spreader holds them thus until it is pulled in again to a "tripper" starting point.

Handy Chopping Board: A wide board for cutting is important but one with a hole at one end is handy. As you place the board of chopped food over a salad bowl, the hole acts as a funnel.

Improved Paper Dishcloths: Easy to wring out and use again are parchment cloths. The paper is perforated which helps to pick up the little pieces.

Hanger For Kitchen Tools: A wall rack which can be put on the wall near the range is helpful and the new ones are very attractive. When in position, the rack forms a curve allowing the tools to hang freely without marring the wall. It comes complete with a set of tools including an egg turner, fork, spoon, masher, ladle and spatula.

Useful Beater: Remember the old fashioned piano wire whip? Well, it's on the market in an improved style. We like it because you can beat eggs with one hand as you gradually add sugar or milk.

Fabric Gifts: Print or chintz aprons; bags for household purposes such as garments, laundry, shoes and dusters are smart. From a yard of cotton material you can make unusual toys for wee folk.

Christmas goodies as gifts need not be too expensive and are always welcome. You can use economical substitutes to advantage if you consider such ingredients as mincemeat, whole bran, oatmeal, chocolate or brown sugar.

REFRIGERATOR MINCEMEAT COOKIES

1 cup butter, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup corn syrup, 2 eggs, 2-1/2 cups flour, 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar, 1/2 tsp. soda, 1 cups mincemeat, 1 cup nuts, 1 tsp. salt.
Cream butter; add brown sugar and eggs (slightly beaten). Stir in flour that has been sifted with soda, salt and cream of tartar. Add mincemeat and nuts and more flour if necessary.

Shape into rolls and wrap in waxed paper. Allow to stand overnight in refrigerator. Slice with a sharp knife and place on greased baking degrees for 8-10 mins.

BRAN BROWNIES

1 cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 2 oz. unsweetened chocolate, 1 cup whole bran, 1 cup chopped nuts, 1-3/4 cup flour, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1 tsp. vanilla.
Cream butter, sugar and eggs. Add melted chocolate and rest of ingredients. Sprinkle with nuts. Bake in a

SHORTBREAD COOKIES

1/2 lb. butter, 2 cups sifted rice flour, 2-3 cup lightly packed brown sugar, or 1 cup fruit sugar.

Cream butter and gradually blend in your choice of sugar; cream very well. Add the flour, a third at a time, and combine thoroughly after each addition—if flour becomes difficult to work it with a spoon, use the hands. Turn dough onto a lightly-floured baking board and knead in additional flour until cracks appear on the surface of the dough—avoid working in any more flour than will bring the dough to the cracking point. Pat and roll dough to about 1-3 inch thickness; using a floured knife, cut dough, using a small cookie cutter. Cookies may be decorated with a piece of cherry or nutmeat, before baking; or simply prick the tops with the tines of a fork. Bake in an electric oven, 275 degrees, about 40 minutes—until cookies are set.

ROCK COOKIES

1 cup brown sugar, 1-3 cup melted butter or shortening, 1 tsp. soda dissolved in 1 tsp. hot water, 2 eggs, 2 cups general purpose flour, 1/2 cups each, raisins, dates and nuts, 1/2 tsp. nutmeg, 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. vanilla.

Beat the eggs, add the sugar and continue beating. Add the vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients and the soda dissolved in the hot water. Add the melted shortening and the floured fruit and nuts. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased cookies sheet and bake 20 minutes in a 350 degree electric oven. Yield approximately 60 cookies.

THE SUGGESTION BOX

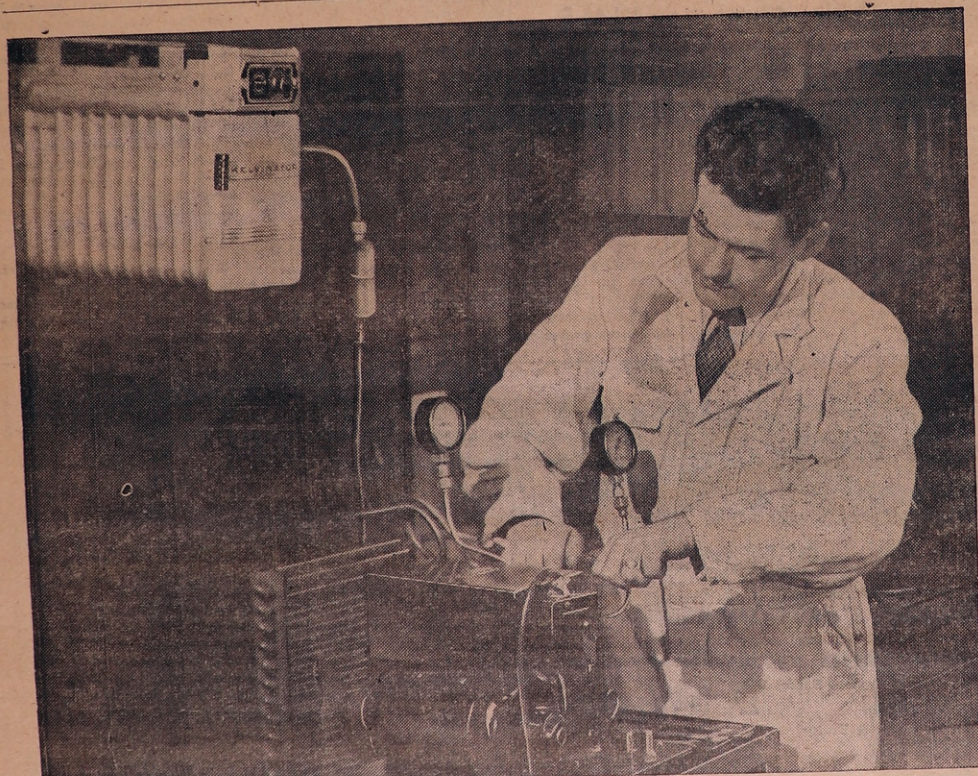

Mrs. B. F. says: 1. When storing summer cottons, pack them unstarched and unironed. They pack more readily when rough-dry. In addition they will be fresh and neat next summer if starched and ironed just before using.

2. After woolen sweaters have been thoroughly washed and rinsed twice in clear water, dip them in a very weak soap solution before drying. The small amount of soap water replaces the oil removed from the wool in washing. The effect is soft, fluffy sweaters.

HANDS AT WORK...

LEARNING REFRIGERATION

ONTARIO'S productive capacity is the measure of her future prosperity. To assure this province a prominent place in domestic and foreign trade markets, skilled hands are needed. Increased production of refrigeration units will mean a greater need for skilled servicing. Veterans, basically trained in schools and ON THE JOB, will fill this need as they are absorbed into industry. For those who have mastered skilled occupations, higher wages, job security and better working conditions are within easier reach.

Through plans sponsored by the Department of Veterans Affairs and other agencies, hundreds of young workers are being trained for refrigeration servicing. Graduates of training schools are ready now to take their places in industry. Craftsmen of the future, they will have a share in Ontario's progress—an important part to play in her industrial development.

W.M.S. Sectional Rally

On Friday, October 24th, 1947, the Madoc Sectional Rally of the Women's Missionary Society met in the United Church at Hazzard's Corners. Almost 100 members and delegates were present and all enjoyed the beautiful fall day and the splendid programme provided. The Vice-President, Mrs. J. F. Nickle presided.

The morning session opened at 9.30 with a hymn followed with prayer by Mrs. Patten and the singing of the National Anthem. Cooper Auxiliary conducted a very impressive Worship Service.

Minutes of the last year's Rally at Tweed United Church, were read and approved. Greetings of welcome were given by Mrs. Howard, a member of Hazzard's Auxiliary, in which she urged that the bonds of friendship be strengthened and hoped that every one would enjoy the day. Mrs. Blackburn, of Eldorado Auxiliary made a very gracious reply. Mrs. Cadigan and Mrs. Prest were named a Courtesy Committee and Mrs. Haacke, Miss Keene and Mrs. Prest a Nominating Committee. The offering was received and dedicated by an Ivanhoe member.

Mrs. N. Broad introduced the Guest Speakers: Miss Louisa Mayowna, Mrs. McKenzie and the District President, Mrs. Albert Empey, who all spoke briefly.

Highlights of the year's work in the different Auxiliaries was then heard which proved very interesting. Mrs. Rollins reporting for Cooper said they had 1 life member, 19 members and 3 Associate members. They used the envelope system. There were 4 Group Leaders and meetings were held in the homes. A donation had been made to the Tornado Fund. Easter and Thank offerings taken and $77.56 sent in, so far, to the Presbyterian Treasurer.

Eldorado reported a dinner in January and Miscellaneous sale in February. World's Day of Prayer in March. $5.00 had been sent to the Parsonage at St. Peter, and each member contributed 50 cents for supply work.

Mrs. Broad in reporting Hazzard's said they were glad to be entertaining the Rally. They were using the Study Book and had purchased the "Book Shelf." Their membership was 4 life members, and 20 annual members, with average attendance of 14. Four quilts had been made also a gift given a boy. $70 had been sent to the Tornado fund. At each meeting two secretaries were asked to report on their work and this was proving helpful. They had sent two members to Whitty Leaders' School.

Mrs. Wood reported 2 life members and 30 annual members in the Ivanhoe Auxiliary. A pot-luck dinner had been held to raise funds for the Tornado Fund. They used the Study Book. 20 members subscribed to the Missionary Monthly.

Madoc Branch had lost 5 members during the year and had a new life member. A Missionary had given an address at Trinity Church $50 had been raised for them. The mite boxes were gathered every 3 months. Attendance from 25-45.

Marmora reported holding 7 meetings. Had completed one Study Book. A complete wardrobe for a girl had been donated. Mrs. Hasback, of Belleville, was guest speaker at one meeting. The proceeds of the Davies' concert would help finish raising their allocation.

Tweed Afternoon Auxiliary had outstanding Meetings on the World's Day of Prayer and at Easter. In July a Life Membership meeting had been held. The Evening Auxiliary had a membership of 25 and had raised $142 of their allocation to date. The Fee Supper in January was an idea new to most W.M.S. members.

Several reports were held over as members were not present at this time.

Members of Tweed Branch conducted the Memorial Service in memory of those members who had passed on during the year. These were: Mrs. Herb Palmeh, Madoc; Mrs. Wm. McEwan and Mrs. F. Comerford, Eldorado and Mrs. Daece and Mrs. Davis, of Tweed.

Rev. Patton conducted the Communion Service, after which adjournment was made to the L.O.L. Hall where a delicious Chicken dinner was served.

At 1.30 the Rally resumed with Mrs. Franks leading in a lively Sing Song. Mrs. Patton spoke on "Temperance and Christian Citizenship" and Mrs. Broad gave a talk on Associate Members. Mrs. Poulter, of Madoc, brought Echoes of the Branch meeting in Port Hope and Mrs. Haacke, of Deloro, gave the "Highlights of the School for Leaders."

Miss Louisa Mayowna, a native of Czechoslovakia, who is a member of the W.M.S. Home Mission Staff was listened to with closest attention and interest. Coming to Canada in 1930, she worked in Quebec and Northern Ontario but since 1940 has been stationed in the Timmins-Porcupine Area. Miss Mayowna is a trained nurse as well as a Mission worker and her experiences in the rough mining communities are indeed thrilling. Her labours with the new Canadians, coming to our shores from almost every European Country are described in the most fascinating way. In closing she said "My work isn't easy but it is so very worthwhile."

One change was made in the officers. The Secretary, Mrs. F. Palmer, having resigned, Mrs. W. J. Pack, of Marmora, was appointed to fill that office. Eldorado Branch invited the Rally to meet with them next year. Mrs. Cadigan expressed the thanks of the gathering in a few gracious words for the Courtesy Committee. Cooper Auxiliary was awarded the banner. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Albert Empey.

St. Paul's Y.P.U.

The regular meeting of St. Paul's Y.P.U. was held in the Sunday School Rooms on Monday evening. The president, Georgina Huffman, turned the Worship service over to Harold Hagerman. Hymn, "Jesus Shall Reign," was sung, followed by Psalm 302. A poem, "Building God's Kingdom" was read by Roberta Good.

Harold Hagerman gave the story of hymn 101, "In Christ There is No East or West." The Y.P.U. are to be responsible for the church service on Sunday evening, November 16th.

The topic for the evening was well prepared by Jack Bush, "Christian Missions conveyor, who spoke on how the Bible was translated into English. Hymn 132 was sung and this part of the meeting was closed with prayer by Rev. R. W. Barker. Glenn Bush took charge of the recreation. The meeting closed with benediction and the friendship circle.

Wellmans W.A. and W.M.S.

Wellmans W.A. and W.M.S. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Clancy on Monday evening with a good attendance. The meeting opened with Hymn 450, followed by Prayer by Rev. N. Cole. In prescribing the lash, the courts are on the right track. If the thugs persist in using weapons to enforce their unlawful demands, it would seem that drastic measures must be adopted to put a stop to their activities. Penitentiary sentences, without the lash, have not proved a deterrent to violent crime. The only option is to prescribe whippings, and see what effect that medicine will have.

MRS. PERMELIA JANE BENNETT

(Contributed)

On Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m., a large number of relatives and friends attended the funeral service of Mrs. Permelia Jane Bennett, age 95 years. In her early years deceased was united in marriage to Daniel Chapman Doozee, and to this union were born three children, (Caroline) Mrs. German Sills, Belleville, (deceased) (Elizabeth), Mrs. Moran, of Stockdale, surviving; and William Wesley, deceased. The couple were very active workers in the Methodist Church at Hoards Station, which they both helped build. Mr. Doozee died at the age of thirty years. In later years deceased married Edward Aaron Bennett, the result of this union being Henry Fredrick Bennett, Campbellford, deceased, (Gertrude May); Mrs. R. N. Morrison, Campbellford, deceased; and (Blanche Ray), Mrs. H. H. Fanning, surviving.

There are ten grandchildren and fourteen great grand children surviving. Thirty-seven years ago she resigned from the Methodist Church, to become a member of the Christian Science Church. She was a full member of the First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, Mass. She based her faith firmly in the knowledge, "In God We Live, And Move, and have Our Being," and Romans 8: 38-39 and lived accordingly. Declaring the time had come to pass on she resigned herself to the end.

The service held at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. (Blanche) H. H. Fanning, was conducted by Rev. N. Cole, pastor of Rawdon Circuit, who spoke of the remarkable memory of deceased who only a few weeks ago was able to quote long passages of Scripture. He also preached an excellent sermon. Mr. and Mrs. George Watson sang a duet, "Face To Face," with Mrs. Lorne Watson as accompanist. Mrs. John Rainie assisted in the hymns which were, "Rock of Ages," and "Abide With Me." The pall bearers were four grandsons, Ray Moran, Harry Bennett, Howard Moran and Carl Sills; and two grandsons, Claude Moran and Ray Bennett. Honorary pallbearers were Messrs. Wilfred Sine, Edward Preston, William Preston, Edward Todd, Blake Sharp, and George Watson.

Messrs. R. B. Duffin and son rendered faultless service. Interment took place in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, beside her husband. There was a wealth of beautiful floral tributes.

Surprise Party For Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Ashley

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gordanier for Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Ashley on Friday, November 7th, by their friends and neighbours.

The programme was opened by a few words by the chairman, Rev. W. H. V. Walker, followed by community singing led by Mrs. H. Rodgers with Mrs. Williams on the piano. A reading by Mrs. L. Rodgers; A reading by Mrs. W. Savage; A piano solo by Mrs. Williams; A reading by Mrs. W. H. V. Walker; A reading by Mrs. McIntosh; A reading by Mrs. Alex Parks. Community singing was then enjoyed.

Rev. R. W. Barker made a short speech and the address was read by Mrs. Waterfall.

Dear Edna and Delbert:—
We your friends and neighbours,
Have gathered here this night
To wish you luck and happiness
When you start housekeeping
In your new apartment.

We trust that your future
Will always be bright,
Your pathways be joyous
Your troubles be light.

Yet, God has not promised
Skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways,
All your life through.

So, if shadows should come,
Just whistle and sing,
It will make the clouds vanish
And much happiness bring.

Now Edna, don't start nagging, be cranky or pout,
It will spoil a home quicker than all get out.
Just be to your husband, a dear love.

There are many ways in which annual flowers can be used, and even the smallest garden can grow a few which will add to the appearance of the home. Many people who live in rented houses by a small outlay on a few hardy annuals can improve the appearance of the home and provide flowers for indoor decoration.

In it is valuable information, such as the sketch and explanation of a plan for arrangement of annual flower beds, seed and sowing, soil, insects, a descriptive list of annuals, list of twelve weeds are much more persistent and damaging than most of the common kinds and have taken over entire farms. In Manitoba alone, more than $60,000 is being spent to halt the invasion.

Florence Galloway Weds David Fargey At Springbrook

Springbrook United Church was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding on Saturday, November 8th, when Florence Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Galloway, of Springbrook, became the bride of David Allan Fargey, only son of Mr. Samuel Fargey and the late Mrs. Fargey, of West Huntingdon. Rev. P. H. Christensen performed the ceremony.

The wedding music was played by the church organist, Mrs. John McKeown. The soloist was Mrs. George Williams who sang, "The Garden of Tomorrow," and "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of brocade satin, featuring a sweetheart neckline with fitted sleeves coming to a point over the wrist. Her shoulder length veil was caught with a head dress of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Hugh McMullen was bridesmaid, wearing a floor length gown of blue tulle with matching shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of deep pink roses.

Miss Dora Galloway, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, wearing a floor length gown of yellow Eylet embroidery with matching shoulder length veil and carrying a nosegay of mums and roses.

Miss Carol Ray was flower girl and looked charming in a floor length gown of pink tulle with matching veil. She carried a nosegay of mums and roses.

Mr. Orval Ray was the groomsman. The ushers were Stanley Galloway, brother of the bride, and Laird English, cousin of the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. George Williams to approximately 75 guests. The bride's mother received in a two-piece dress of blue wool with a corsage of red roses. She was assisted by Mrs. Robert Bellahay.

Later the young couple left mid showers of confetti on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, United States and Ottawa. Mr. and Mrs. Fargey will reside at West Huntingdon.

Sold Cottage

Harper Rollins has sold his summer cottage at Oak Lake to Mr. W. T. Elliott of town. The business deal was completed last week.

Dropping of Tax Means $635 Saving

Abolition of the eight per cent sales tax on domestic use of electricity will mean a saving to Stirling consumers of $635, according to F. A. Sprenkle, manager of the local Hydro Commission.

This same tax was one of the points at issue at the Dominion-Provincial Conference, and disagreement as to the disposition of the revenue was one of the many contributing factors in the failure of agreements.

From this, the Dominion Government has been collecting an annual $6,000,000.

Mt. Pleasant Talent Presents Program

Uncle Hy Says

(Copyright 1947, H. M. Moore)

A groundhog is the wisest thing, in fall he goes below till spring, to sleep and snore, to snore and sleep, beneath the frost line, fairly deep, where he will never catch a chill, and so he'll have no doctor bill.

A groundhog is a lucky thing, no landlord has him on a string, no housing need disturbs his rest, of all the dens he thinks his best, and as for land, it has extent, and never takes a cent for rent.

A groundhog is a canny thing, no grocer's bill to leave its sting, he buys no meat, he buys no booze, no underwear, no fancy shoes, and his fur coat fits like a flute, in fact it was his birthday suit.

What Others Say!

WHY DETACHABLE CAR PLATES

The Ontario Department of Highways announces that the two-plate system of motor licenses will be resumed next year. In the interests of law observance, says The Financial Post, probably numbers should be carried in front as well as in rear. So long as we continue the present practice of using nonpermanent detachable plates, however, adding another will mean more rattle and exasperation for the motorist.

Surely we should be able to devise some system of using a permanent car marker, preferably welded solidly to frame or body. So handled, it would look much neater and could not rattle, fall off or catch on things. Even important, it would make car stealing far less easy. At present, a few minutes' work with the screw driver and a switch of plates, gives the thief almost complete protection.

SING WHILE YOU DRIVE

(Casualty and Surety Journal)

—At 45 miles per hour, sing "Highways Are Happy Ways."

At 55 miles, sing "I'm But a Stranger Here, Heaven Is My Home."

At 65 miles, sing "Nearer My God To Thee."

At 75 miles, sing "When The Roll Is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There."

At 85 miles, sing "Lord, I'm Coming Home."

MORE DARKNESS MORE TRAFFIC DANGER

Despite ideal driving conditions in the best October weather the Province has enjoyed in over a hundred years, 89 persons were killed on Ontario roads last month. This toll, while below the 95 dead for October of last year, emphasizes the need for greater care in the coming winter months.

Highway officials point out that people over 35 and under 65 are more exposed to traffic hazards this time of year and consequently accidents increased in this group. Traffic accident figures for this October show that of the 89 persons killed, 27 were between the ages of 35 and 65. Last October 25 of the traffic deaths involved people in this age group.

Accident statistics indicate that while fewer children, proportionately, are killed on the roads during the months of early darkness, more middle-aged and elderly people suffer injury or death. In cities and towns slippery streets and the tricky light of the dying day make the evening rush hour especially dangerous to the persons on foot.

At night the dark clothes worn by most adults make them difficult for motorists to see. Pedestrians are urged when walking down poorly-lit streets or along country roads to carry or wear something white.

Although there is less motor traffic on rural roads in the fall and winter months the added hazards make them the most dangerous. Early darkness, rain, sleet, fog and ice call for extra care on the part of drivers and pedestrians. Rural accidents accounted for 46 per cent of the total accidents last year in Ontario. And November and December were the worst months in 1946 for accidents on country roads.

While the October record was comparatively good, considering the big increase in traffic, the Highways Department emphasizes that the last two months of the year are usually the worst months for the Province generally and urges everyone to make additional allowance for the risks peculiar to this season of the year. Particularly those between 35 and 65.

FARMERS ASKED TO GIVE CO-OPERATION WITH STATISTICS

During the last week of November thousands of Ontario farmers will receive Live Stock and Poultry forms with a request to fill in the information concerning the livestock operations on their own farms, says S. H. Symons, Director of the Statistics and Publications Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. This Branch, in co-operation with the Agricultural Division of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, is collecting this information. From the returns received from farmers, estimates of the number of live stock in Ontario at December 1st, 1947, will be obtained, and information will be secured regarding the disposition of live stock during the last six months, i.e., marketings, killed on farms and natural deaths. Questions are also being asked as to future intentions to market.

The success of this survey depends upon the cooperation received from

In Manitoba alone, more than $60,000 is being spent to halt the invasion.

RATS DESTROY FOOD AND MENACE HEALTH

Perhaps the most formidable of the rodents which are destroyers of food and property and a serious menace to public health, is the common brown or Norway rat.

It is a prolific breeder, the female being capable of bearing four or five times a year, from four to ten rats, which in turn are able to breed at the age of about six months.

The extermination of rats is complicated by the fact that most of the suitable poison baits used in their destruction are also injurious to other animals and to humans. If reasonable precautions are observed, however, poison baits can be used to good effect.

One of the best methods of defence is to make buildings ratproof, and the best material to use is concrete. This should be used for foundations of storehouses, granaries, poultry houses, and special care should be taken to see that any spaces around drains and other pipes is concreted over. Doors to such buildings should be bound at their base with sheet-metal, and ventilators and basement windows protected. Heavy galvanized wire netting of half-inch mesh is effective in excluding rats from such things as corn cribs.

If there are not many rats, they can be eliminated by using traps. This method is particularly suited to the house, where the use of poison bait is often undesirable. Traps of the spring or guillotine type, or the wire cage type, are both equally good with satisfactory bait. Indeed, the spring type is often effective without bait if placed in run-ways formed by leaving boards against walls and covering the traps with a piece of cheese-cloth, sawdust or other light material to obscure them.

Information on the best method of exterminating and controlling rats and mice may be obtained by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture and asking for Special Pamphlet No. 33, "Control of Rats and Mice."

RECORD YIELD OF POTATOES GROWN AT MAGNETEWAN

Although weather conditions during the past season were not too favourable for potato production in many localities, resulting in lower yields, some new records for production have been achieved, reports R. E. Goodin, fieldman for the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Results of the Parry Sound District 500 Bushel Potato Club, just received, revealed that three individual growers have broken the previous provincial record of 684 bushels per acre, set by John Vanderhorst, Fort Frances, in the Rainy River District, in 1945. The new champions are Fred Sohn, Magnetewan, who produced an estimated yield of 713 bushels per acre; C. H. Chapman, Nipissing, with 694 bushels per acre and Frank Rick, Trout Creek, with 693 bushels per acre.

The average yield of the high ten growers in the Parry Sound Club was 539 bushels per acre, and the average for the 21 growers completing the contest was 460 bushels per acre. These are the highest figures ever officially recorded in the Province of Ontario. The first nine winners of the competition grew the Chippewa variety and the quality was excellent.

SEED POTATOES OF HIGH QUALITY NOW AVAILABLE

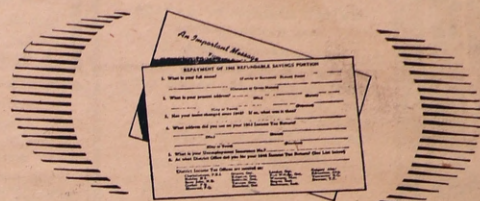

Farmers and buyers who require seed potatoes for planting next spring may secure satisfactory supplies now, as many seed growers in Ontario are now prepared to grade and sell, reports R. E. Goodin, fieldman for the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The quality of Ontario potatoes is exceptionally good this year, adds Mr. Goodin, and buyers may purchase their supplies with confidence that they will keep well in suitable storage.

A list of all potato fields in the Province which have met the standards for Foundation A and Certified seed has been prepared. Copies are available without charge from local Agricultural Representatives, offices of the Dominion Seed Potato Certification Service, or from the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto. This list gives growers' names and addresses, with varieties, acreage and grade standing.

Many potato growers during recent years have followed the practice of securing their seed requirements immediately after digging. Growers are known as bacterial ring rot. The best guarantee is to use only potatoes from official tags as Foundation, Foundation A or Certified seed.

Earl Morrow Writes About Motor Trip To West Coast

Dear Editor,—

Mrs. Edgar D. Morrow, my wife and I arrived here safely on Tuesday, October 28th, at 2 p.m. at the Dominion Hotel and on November 1st moved into our new address.

We came the trans-Canada Highway via Bancroft, Algonquin Park, Huntsville, North Bay, Kapuskasing, Hearst, Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise, Golden, Revelstoke, and as in the fall of 1946 we still kept the Trans-Canada route No. 1 via Kamloops, Hope, the Fraser Canyon, New Westminster, Vancouver, ferry to Nanaimo and motored down Highway to Victoria, we thought we would motor south this year from Revelstoke to Kelowna through the Okanagan Valley fruit and peach land, across the border into U.S.A., still through the Okanagan Valley in U.S.A., through Stevens' Pass of Mountains to Everett, then Seattle. We stayed three days with my brother, William, in Seattle, then went back to Everett to Anacortes and across ferry to Sidney, Vancouver Island. This ferry trip I had never been on before. It was grand through the Juan de Fuca Straits, dotted with islands, and the ferry docked four times on the trip. The sea was quite calm and we had the moon meal on the boat, which took four hours for the trip.

I guess I shall have to admit that the '47 Chevrolet worked fine all the way. I had the 2000-mile inspection in Moose Jaw, and they surely gave me great service. Our total mileage from Stirling to Victoria was 3,448, which included a few miles on side trips. Last year are total mileage out including side trips was 3888.

The Trans-Canada Highway was in fairly good shape. The odd strip had a few chuck holes in it as I guess in Northern Ontario, where the water flows north to James Bay, the frost does not get all out of the road bed until in July or so, hence the holes do not get properly healed over.

This year's trip being later than last year, we saw plenty of deer and moose, in fact we took snaps of deer being fed by motorists along the roadside in Algonquin Park. We had quite a few miles of gumbo road from Swift Current to Calgary, as it had snowed and thawed and about 3 inches of gumbo, like stiff soup, resulted. You should have seen the car, it surely was a mess, and the mud sticking to the fenders, etc., really loaded it down. But it froze that night and when it thawed the next day most of the mud under the car dropped off. From Calgary to Banff, the weather was really foggy but once the sun got up the scenery was grand through the foothills and into the Mountains. There had been a 10-inch fall of snow, which had been ploughed off, but the road bed was still slippery owing to a thin layer of snow on it. The C.P.R. hotels at Banff and Lake Louise were both closed, as it is customary to close up in September and prepare them for the winter season.

We washed our hands in the mineral Hot Springs at Banff. The water of which is really hot, comes down the side of the mountain and has a big sulphur content. Nature has really worked wonders. The scenery through the mountains this year was not equal to last, due to the snow covering the landscape from the road surface to the top of the mountains. I think one enjoys it better with the green foliage at the bottom and the snow from half way up to the top (snow caps).

General Ike Eisenhower mountain is surely bald, and was formerly called Bald Mount. I think the most marvelous sight of all is Cathedral Mountain. One sees it from so far off that you wonder if one will ever get past it. I had a snap of myself taken trying to roll a large rock off the road bed, so that we could get past. I hope it turns out ok. One needs to see these mountains to grasp their beauty. Then at Kicking Horse Pass, (the Great Divide), the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia, where the water divides, you stop and see the small stream divide, one branch winding its way toward the Pacific and the other towards the Atlantic.

The water in the rivers and lakes in the mountains is a lime green in color, and Lake Louise is a perfect picture, with the trees on the mountain side casting their reflection on its waters. The weather in Victoria has been rather dry but the rainy season has started.

The first night we were here we went to the annual Conservative meeting to hear John Bracken, the Conservative leader. So we had a handshake with Mr. and Mrs. Bracken and Col. and Mrs. Peakes, (the local M.P.). Strange I had to travel nearly four thousand miles to meet our next Canadian Premier. (What do you say?)

We are very comfortably situated here, 3/4 of a mile out of the city, just off Quadra St. We brought along a 10-lb. Black Diamond cheese, a gallon of Maple syrup, some Hickory and Butternut for our friends and they are enjoying the cheese and syrup.

The weather was perfect on the way out. We had a soft tire climbing the mountain to Lake Louise, having picked up a tack; otherwise we encountered no trouble. I just wondered though if I could keep the car out of the ditch in that gumbo. I was very cautious and when meeting cars needed to watch where I turned out. It sure would be a mess to have a soft tire in that stuff.

Well "Happy" keep Stirling on the map until we get back. I have sent for the Ontario Intelligencer and the Globe & Mail to be mailed to us also, so we will be watching Old Ontario. Your friend,

Earl A. Morrow

Comic Books Banned By New Order

Some of Canada's reading public will be annoyed over government restrictions which prohibit, among thousands of items, the importation of American reading material in the comic and pulp classes.

Parents, regardless of their political leanings, will probably give the Prime Minister nods of approval for his decision that will again make homelife more normal for them. Mother will be able to get sis to help with

PROPOSED CANDIDATE MUST GIVE CONSENT TO NOMINATION

New regulations covering nominations for municipal elections come into effect this year. One important phase is consent of nomination, the rule reading:

"When a proposed candidate is not present, his nomination paper shall not be valid unless there is attached thereto evidence satisfactory to the returning officer that he consents to be so nominated. (Municipal Act, Section 69 (4), 1947).

NOTE — The Returning Officer might accept other evidence such as a telegram, a letter, a telephone message, or a verbal message conveyed by a responsible person. Forms of consent will be available from Clerks. hold another meeting in Stirling on November 30th to make final plans for the loop.

CANADA AND AID PLAN

When State Secretary Marshall asked the U.S. Congress for a $7,500,000,000 aid programme for European recovery in the next 15 months, it was interpreted here that Canada's own grave U.S. dollar problem would be helped considerably by this move since he gave a broad hint that this European aid programme would allow possible U.S. purchases to be made in Canada, though officially there has been no comment in this capital on this momentous programme and its likely effects on Canada.

Observers in Ottawa seem to think that there was much significance in General Marshall's remark that "the economic effects of this programme (Marshall Plan) will extend far beyond the boundaries of the 16 European countries involved, this being interpreted that dollar-short Canada would benefit from the U.S. action and help in solving Canada's own exchange problem, even if this may only bring a remedy and not a cure for this chronic conditions of trade deficits with the U.S. If this is true, it might alleviate the whole dollar shortage problem of the Canadian Government, it is emphasized here, and allow a decrease in the impact of whatever actions the Canadian Government had planned in the coming session in regard to this dollar crisis.

However, it is also held in informed quarters that there may be many Republicans in Washington who may oppose bitterly heavy U.S. buying in Canada, especially of food and other articles, for European aid, and, therefore, developments in Washington are now being watched in Ottawa with a more intense interest than any veteran observer can recall for a great many years because the moves by U.S. are expected to foreshadow Canada's own moves in the coming session.

EARLIER SESSIONS?

The Canadian Government's decision to summon Parliament on December 5th may mean that Parliament might be concluded earlier in 1948 without continuing into the summer months and it would prove no surprise if this plan of calling early fall sessions may become a regular practice, it is learned here.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

The political grapevine indicates that a reorganization of the Cabinet may be made prior to the next general election, if not sooner, with several ministers being mentioned repeatedly as likely to step out of the political arena for appointments to the Bench, Senate, etc. Indeed, in the past couple of weeks these stories have had considerable publicity on Parliament Hill, including one report which purported to claim that about eight or nine of the present ministers may depart from the political field to be replaced by younger men among the present Parliamentary Assistants whose ranks were recently increased by a number of new appointments and another report claimed that some of the present Cabinet members may move on into other posts when Premier King makes his expected retirement move, possibly in 1948. In still another report it is hinted that a certain Provincial Premier may join the King Government next year or at least before the next general election.

REVALUATION OF THE DOLLAR

Following on the heels of the report that France may revalue the franc due to her heavy trade deficit, a report has started to circulate widely along Parliament Hill that Canada, too, may do the same since this country is faced with possible trading deficit of one billion dollars in the case of U.S. transactions by the end of this year. However, officials here refuse flatly any comment and it is recalled that, when Finance Minister Abbott made his last statement on this, he indicated in no uncertain language that there was no intention on his part to recommend such a move. Nevertheless, since the news about France and the franc has become known here, speculation about what Canada may do can be heard everywhere in this capital.

EMBARGO AGAINST IMPORTATION

There is no doubt that the ban on margarine in Canada as a substitute for butter is going to be raised when the Canadian Parliament will meet in the coming session and a bitter political fight seems to be making, particularly since right now Canada is one of those countries subject to the allocation of oils and fats by the International Food Emergency Council and immediate authorization of margarine would be sacrificing an equivalent amount of edible oils, fats, etc.

BIG SURPRISE

While the whole matter is considered to be distinctly a Newfoundland affair and a delicate matter at that, yet there is much surprise being expressed by observers along Parliament Hill that Hon. Gordon Bradley, who headed the Newfoundland delegation which visited Ottawa for several weeks recently to get the possible terms of union with Canada, had been accused of being prejudiced in favour of such a union with Canada, even causing him to resign his post as chairman of the Newfoundland national convention because of criticism on this account. When Mr. Bradley was seen in this capital, his actions and words impressed all observers that he was doing his duty properly and there was not the slightest suggestion of prejudice on his part. Consequently, the developments in Newfoundland concerning Mr. Bradley have come as a big surprise to observers on Parliament Hill.

NEW BLUEPRINT

In the new blueprint for conserving U.S. dollars by developing Canada's natural resources and reducing imports, it is learned that, since coal imports are a heavy drain on foreign exchange, there is a growing viewpoint that peat should be more employed as a substitute for coal as well as wood and other fuels. It is felt that Canada's dependence on U.S. for coal, especially Ontario and Quebec, can be alleviated considerably in time by developing Canada's peat resources just as in other countries processes have been used for making peat briquettes with many of the advantages of coal. This, along with other ways and means of conserving U.S. dollars, is one of the "hottest" subjects along Parliament Hill right now.

DON'T WRITE

It seems that the Department of Veterans Affairs in Ottawa is anxious that the veterans should not write requesting their medals or stars because shortages of supplies and other uncontrollable factors have not allowed so far the distribution of these war medals, with the understanding here that these, about 3,356,000 stars and medals will likely be distributed late in 1948 when the orders are all made.

SAID IN THE CAPITAL

"The Canadian Legion demands a compulsory system of military service for the nation," Col. Douglas Macbeth told a meeting here.

"No matter how generous the benefits provided for veterans, there will still be human problems which can't be met by legislation," said Defence Minister Claxton.

"Plane traffic to the North country has reached amazing proportions," remarked W. H. Belcher, official of the Civil Service Federation of Canada and resident of Edmonton, during a visit to this capital.

"The main problem facing young Canadian men is the task of destroying the apathy and indifference that exist in the country to-day," declared Don Mackay, head of the Junior Board of Trade in Ottawa.

"And what have I got to lose?" asked 100-year-old Mrs. Clara Edlestone who had flown from Chicago to Ottawa to attend the marriage of a great-grandchild here when reporters wanted to know if she was not afraid to travel by air.

"Our force has a tradition and we are going to capitalize on this hero worship," said Howard Ade of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police commenting on the programme of the R.C.M.P. among the youth of Canada in order to prevent crime.

"Many of the advertisements we get on the radio are illiterate," emphasized Dr. Glen Shortcliffe of Queen's University in an address here.

WEEKLY WIND UP

With sugar rationing ended some time ago, reports indicate now that manufacturers of candy and bakeries are going to produce more, though prices may be up.

Canada's clothing shortages may be helped considerably soon since this industry has succeeded in arranging to bring over 2,000 skilled tailors from European displaced persons camps and many more may come if shipping space can be made available, with these workers including skilled tailors for the men's, boys' and women's clothing industries and involving about 45 different trades.

Canada's Minister of Finance, Hon. Douglas Abbott, has steadfastly refused to deny or confirm reports reaching Ottawa about a Canadian loan in the U.S. He has even refused to comment on these reports.

It is forecast on Parliament Hill that labor unions throughout this country are going to make an all-out campaign against Communism within their ranks.

Motion picture owners, it is learned here, are displeased with the Federal Government tax on admissions to motion picture theatres in Canada regarding this heavy tax as a wartime emergency and that there is no longer any reason to retain it as it is "oppressive and obsolete."

John G. Bridges, Director General of the British Travel Association, visited here and declared that there is no need for visitors to the United Kingdom to feel food is being taken away from Britons when consumed by tourists because the value of the dollars brought far exceed the value of the food.

Rumor here has it that Canada's sixteen-year-old ban against the importation of used or second-hand cars from U.S. may be lifted in the near future.

ROYAL WINTER FAIR

Every department of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair has been extended to provide space and facilities for the record-breaking number of exhibitors and to assure maximum accommodation for the public, President J. A. Northey said today. He predicted the public and participants will surpass "any of the finest achievements on our records." Mr. Northey has been associated with the Fair since it was founded.

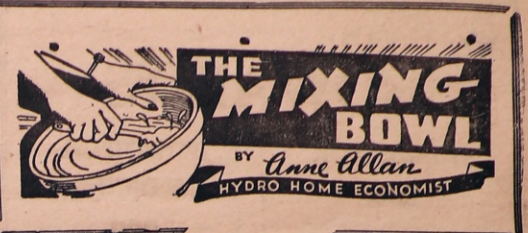

A recent tabulation of entry figures support Mr. Northey's prediction. Animals entered in the Horse Show total 577, compared to 529 in 1946. While total entries in events are only 1,589 against 1,789 for 1946, the first figure will climb sharply with post entries. Entries in the breeding horses total 935 against 955, but there will be another substantial boost here with entries in the championship classes. Other entries for 1946 and 1947 compare as follows: beef cattle, 724 - 1,198; dairy, 1064 - 1,312; sheep, 919 - 1,153; swine, 441 - 676; poultry, 6,879 - 6,600 (incomplete); fruit and vegetables, 677 - 681 (incomplete); grain and seed, 640 - 907 (incomplete); dairy products dressed poultry, 469 (1938) - 269 (incomplete). Without refrigeration last year, there were no exhibits in this last class. This year's refrigeration plant is a model installation designed to provide fullest possible view of the products.

A-WEAK VESSEL

Two friends were discussing the character of a fellow worker, much to his disadvantage.

"He's a regular waster," said the first, "and in my opinion he's a bit cracked."

"Cracked!" retorted the second, "ever since I've known him he's been broke!"

The bells are ringing for our princess and her consort whose wedding is the talk of the world to-day. We all wish these happy people "the very best." May they enjoy many years of wedded bliss.

We believe this solemn occasion will have a strong effect upon the high sense of duty, good morale and genuine home-planning of our young folk who are planning matrimony. To them we extend our blessings too.

Christmas plans are also being discussed now. Many hope to travel great distances to their homes, while others are looking forward to entertaining the family at home. For the hostess, fruit cake is an essential all during the holiday week. To have a mellow flavour, the Christmas cake and pudding should be baked now and puddings have been cooled, wrap in two thicknesses of wax paper and store in a tin or wooden box that has a tight cover. Place an orange or apple in the box, but replace it every four or five days. This prevents the contents of the box from drying out.

PLAIN LIGHT FRUIT CAKE

1 lb. butter, 1 lb. granulated sugar, 9 eggs, separated, 1 lb. sultana raisins, 1 lb. citron peel, 1 lb. blanched almonds, 1 lemon, juice and rind, 5 cups sifted flour, 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. baking powder. Cream the butter, add sugar and cream thoroughly. Add the beaten egg yolks. Wash the raisins, shred the peel and flour them with part of the measured flour. Add the sifted dry ingredients. Fold in the-floured fruit together with the lemon rind and juice. Lastly fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Line 2 tins with brown paper, then waxed paper. Grease thoroughly. Pour in the batter and bake in a preheated electric oven of 275 degrees for 4 hours, or until a steel needle inserted into centre comes out quite clean.

VIRGINIA FRUIT CAKE

1 lb. butter, 1 lb. brown sugar, 1 lb. mixed peel, 1 lb. sultana raisins, 1 lb. currants, 8 eggs, 1-3 cup cherry juice, 1 lb. almonds, 1 lb. flour (i.e., 2 1/2 cups), 1 tsp. cream of tartar, 1 lb. cherries, 1 tsp. rose water, 1 tsp. orange extract, 1 cup grape juice. Cream the butter, add sugar and beaten eggs. Cream very thoroughly. Shred the peel, cut cherries, wash raisins and currants, blanch and brown the almonds. Add the floured fruit, and fold in the sifted dry ingredients alternately with the liquids. Prepare the greased, lined tins. Pour in batter. Bake in a preheated electric oven for about 4 1/2 hours at 275 degrees (no higher temperature).

CARROT PUDDING

1 cup grated raw carrots, 1 cup grated raw potato, 1 cup chopped suet, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup currants, 1 1/2 cups flour, 1 tsp. baking soda, 1 tsp. salt. Mix and sift dry ingredients, then mix all together. Place in greased mould having mould 2-3 full. Cover with parchment paper. Place in steam 3 hours. You may add 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1 tsp. nutmeg, 1 tsp. cloves if you like it spiced, or add 1 tsp. almond flavouring, 1/2 cup chopped, blanched almonds and 1/2 cup mixed peel. For a still-richer pudding, add 1 cup glazed cherries, 1 cup chopped candied peel, 1 cup chopped dates. In either case add an extra tablespoon of flour to the mixture. It's a sort of fool-proof pudding, so develop your own special brand.

TAKE A TIP

Rules for Successful Cake Baking.

1. Have all necessary utensils and ingredients ready before beginning to mix cake, and make sure that the oven is at proper temperature when cake is ready to be baked.
2. A round bottom bowl and a wooden spoon are two suitable utensils.
3. All ingredients should be fresh and of good quality.
4. Fine granulated sugar or soft brown sugar makes a fine textured cake. Sift coarse white sugar.
5. Fruits and nuts should be thoroughly cleaned and allowed to dry, then dredge with one-quarter of the flour before adding to other ingredients.
6. Fruit cakes take a lot of stirring to distribute the materials and should be poured into tins lined with 2 or 3 thicknesses of oiled paper.
7. Place cakes on rack one-third to one-half of the distance from bottom element. Do not use top element during baking and do not open door.
8. A small tin containing 1/2 cup of water on the over rack keeps cakes moist.
9. When baked, cake shrinks from the pan, or if bone knitting needle is inserted into the middle of cake and comes out perfectly clean, it is certain that cake is baked.
10. Do not turn fruit cakes out of pan.

THE QUESTION BOX

- Mrs. D. P. asks: What causes soggy fruit cake?
Answer: Fruit and nuts were not dry or too much sugar or fat.
- Mrs. W. C. asks: Why does cake rise unevenly?
Answer: Overheating, too much flour or uneven heat of oven may cause this.
- W. M. J. asks: What would you substitute for cassia?
Answer: Use requested quantity of cinnamon.

Worth working for!

Watching the men at work on his new barn, Jim thinks of the friendly talk he had with his bank manager. "I've got good land and I can work it. With a little extra money I can really make a dream come true..."

So Jim got his bank loan. Soon, there'll be new farm equipment... improved livestock... a well filled granary. More work for the community, more farm products, more food for home and export.

Helping people in all walks of life to profit from their own enterprise and industry is one of the chief functions of Canadian banks.

THIS IS ONE INSTANCE OF how Canada's 3,200 branch banks play their part in the daily life and work of Canadians.

Splendid Address Given On United Empire Loyalists At Stirling W.I.

The November meeting of the Stirling W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Gordanier with a good attendance. Mrs. H. Cooke first Vice-President of the meeting with the Institute and the Lord's Prayer, after which Mrs. H. Rodgers introduced community singing. Mrs. L. Rodgers conducted the business part and welcomed all the visitors present. Mrs. W. West read the minutes of the last meeting and also the treasurers report. The general order of business was dealt with.

The sick committee reported that Mrs. Roy Woodbeck was a patient in Belleville Hospital and box of fruit to be sent to a sick patient in Kingston Hospital. Two members thanked for wedding presents given from the W.I. to daughter and son.

Mrs. Megginson took charge of the programme and opened with community singing, with Mrs. Williams at the piano. Mrs. H. Rodgers gave a reading, "The Song of The Shirt." Mrs. Williams a piano solo. Mrs. Waterfall gave a reading. Mrs. Gordanier gave a talk on Historical Research and the United Empire Loyalists which was as follows:

Early in the Revolutionary War, the Loyalists began to come across into what is now the province of Quebec. Governor Haldimand at once took steps to help them. He established a settlement near Three Rivers. By the autumn of 1778 there were about a thousand Loyalists in the province. A great many men along the border enlisted in Loyalist Regiments to fight against the Americans. Later on a settlement was set aside for the Loyalists at Sorel. By the winter of 1783-1784 there must have been nearly seven thousand Loyalists in Quebec. Huts were put up here, and provisions were sent to the new settlers, some of whom came from New York up the St. Lawrence to Sorel by boat.

In the spring and summer of 1784 most of the Loyalists were moved to that part of the province which was called Upper Canada and given lands along the north bank of the St. Lawrence River above Montreal, on the shores of the Bay of Quinte, in the Niagara District and along the Detroit River.

Lands for the new settlers were surveyed between the autumn of 1783 and the summer of the next year. Townships were laid out on the Bay of Quinte and along the banks of the St. Lawrence.

When the people were given their lands an attempt was made to keep the soldiers together. Some of the Loyalists had fought in various regiments. Each Loyalist was given 200 acres and each son 200 as he became of age. The girls were given 200 when they got married. It was a difficult matter to decide how the land should be divided up among the Loyalists. What would happen if two families should want the same place. It was agreed the best way would be to draw lots. The number, not knowing what the lot would be like, or where it would be located. When a Loyalist had drawn a lot he could change it for another if he could find a settler willing to trade. In this way, friends were able to take land near one another. 1784 was a hard year for new settlers and it was necessary that help be given them.

The British Government sent relief. They were given rough clothing, enough for three years, tools were also supplied such as axes, hand-saws, cross-cut saws, chisels and hammers. Some of these tools had to be used by several families. One fire-lock musket for hunting was given to each group of five families. The settlers were also given a few cattle and some wheat. Many of the soldiers were allowed to borrow military tents to use before they could finish building their log cabins.

The foundation of the log cabin was large stones placed under each corner of the cabin. It had no cellar. The floor of the cabin was only earth. In others, it was made of logs which had been squared and smoothed on one side. The walls were made of logs placed on top of each other to a height of about nine feet. Rafters were made of slabs overlapping each other. The chimney was an important part of the building. It was built on a foundation of stone finished with short sticks laid one upon the other. The fireplace provided light and heat for cooking and warmth and a centre around which the family gathered in the winter evenings. It was built of large stones. There was usually one door across which hung a heavy quilt or skin.

There were two windows, glass being very scarce, oiled paper was often used. The furniture made by the people themselves was heavy and rough. They saved tallow and made candles and made soft soap from lye from wood ashes and rough tallow and other grease.

In later years when they were able to get a few sheep they carded the wool, spun it into yarn and made it into cloth for clothing by weaving, also sheets and fancy bed spreads. "I have a spread woven by my great grandfather." The Loyalists have a special place in the history of our country. They came here under difficult conditions and many of them for patriotic reasons. All through the course of our history they have a strong link between Canada and the mother country. They were pioneers, that means that they were the ones who came early; their labour and sacrifices helped to prepare the land for those who followed after. They were the beginners of a great adventure; the adventure of preparing a splendid new country to take its place as a nation among the other nations of the world.

This then is what United Empire Loyalists stand for — Patriotism, Loyalty, Courage and Sacrifice in the service of Canada and the Empire. Some of our finest farms in Hastings County were the first homes of these pioneers.

Mrs. H. Rodgers described the doll that Miss Anna Lewis brought home from Holland, this doll was passed around the Belleville area November 4th. Mrs. Rodgers attended this meeting and was accompanied by Dora Rodgers who gave a talk on her trip to Toronto Ex. for the Girl's Home Economic Class.

Mrs. Megginson staged a contest. The meeting was closed with God Save The King. Mrs. H. Cooke voiced a vote of thanks to Mrs. Gordanier Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Megginson, who had charge of the programme and lovely lunch.

EXHIBITS FROM MANITOBA FOR WINTER FAIR

Exhibits from the province of Manitoba have earned the distinction of being first to arrive at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair. Ten carloads of livestock and a carload of wagon equipment arrived from Manitoba today. The exhibits left Winnipeg Saturday, Nov. 8th, and arrived a day before they were expected. Entries from Saskatchewan were unloaded in second place.

Western Canada has displayed keen interest in the 1947 Winter Fair. The Alberta Government is assuming one-quarter of the freight charges to the Fair on car lots of livestock approved by the Livestock Board. The province is also furnishing feed for the livestock and absorbing miscellaneous costs of assembling and shipping. Seed and grain exhibitors are encouraged by the Alberta government's offer of $25 to first prize winners in the seed show, and $50 to champions in the grain show. Saskatchewan and British Columbia also offered incentives to potential prize winners.

Youth in agriculture is being stressed in this year's programme for the response from all sections of the country has exceeded all expectations. Alberta is sending no less than five teams, two of them girls, to the national junior judging contests. Teams announced to date include:

Quebec — J. L. Leonard and Rene Boivin, St. Jovite;
Manitoba — Alex Stow and Don Murray, Graysville.

Alberta — Bud McBride and David Bradshaw, Innisfail; David Black and Bill Wearmouth, Bearsapaw; Harry Katterhagen and Howard Roppel, Rockyford; Jean Gow and Lorraine Schatz, Bow Island; Norma Moyer and Karen Thompson, Markerville.

The Alberta teams are entered in the beef, dairy, grain, food and clothing judging.

Large groups of ten-aged agriculturists will represent northern, western and eastern Ontario. Plans are nearing completion for the teen-agers to arrive in Toronto in an impressive motor cavalcade. In co-operation with Winter Fair officials, the deputy minister of education has notified schools within a 100-mile radius of Toronto that pupils attending the Fair in supervised groups may do so without affecting their attendance records. The Winter Fair is issuing free tickets to out-of-town students coming in these groups. On Wednesday, November 19, directors of the Winter Fair will select a junior executive committee from the youth representatives and turn the show over to them for the day.

NEW METHODS TO FIGHT WEED MENACE

The programme to be presented to the first Western Weed Conference at the meetings to be held in Regina, Sask., from November 26 to 28 inclusive, will emphasize the great strides that have been made in weed control during the past year and previously. For some time past, technical weed workers have been busy summarizing the results of recent extensive research for presentation to the Conference and it will be the work of the Conference to assess the value of these results. The Conference will also hear from field workers against the invasion of such serious weeds as leafy spurge, hoary cress, Russian knapweed, and field bindweed. These annuals best suited to various sections of Canada and also of the twelve best for outside sowing, list of annuals for special purposes, everlasting flowers for winter bouquets, cut flowers, annuals that self-sow, annuals that will flower in partial shade, drought-resistant annuals, and those for rock gardens and window boxes. A copy of the publication may be obtained by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

TENDERS ON CAMPBELLFORD HOSPITAL HELD UP RECENTLY

Tenders for the new Memorial Hospital, Campbellford, have been temporarily withdrawn, reports Harvey Donald, chairman of the Memorial Hospital Planning Board. MURIEL WOODCOCK
WEDS LLOYD ROWLAND

Mark St. United Church was the scene of a lovely fall wedding Saturday afternoon when Muriel Audrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Woodcock, was united in marriage to Lloyd Archer Rowland, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Rowland. The wedding was solemnized by Rev. A. M. Partridge and Rev. E. W. Rowland in a setting of white and pink baby mums and ferns. Wedding music was by Mr. Harry Northrop, organist, and Mrs. Cecil Searles, soloist, singing, "Calm As The Night" preceding the ceremony and "My Hero" during the singing of the register.

That charming bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a period dress of white satin with draped bodice with sheer yoke, tight fitting sleeves with points, full skirt and long flowing train. Her veil was silk embroidered net "Illusion" with coronet headdress of seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of Better-time red roses and bouvardia.

Wedding attendants were Misses Betty and Barbara Wyatt, twin sisters, frocked alike in hollyhock rose gowns of corded taffeta made with floor length skirts, bustle backs, puffed short sleeves and matching mittens and headdress of pom poms. They carried colonial bouquets of pink mums and cream roses. Flower girl was Donna Rowland, of Ottawa, niece of the groom, pretty in Nile green nylon taffeta made on similar lines, and wearing a pale pink wreath of flowers in her hair.

The groom was attended by his brother, Rev. M. E. Rowland, of Ottawa. Ushers were Mr. D. McDonald and Mr. L. Woodcock, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Sunday School auditorium. The bride's mother received her guests, wearing a gown of grey with black accessories and corsage of red roses. The groom's mother also received, wearing fuchsia with black accessories and corsage of cream roses. Luncheon was served by the south group of the W.A.

After a wedding trip to Montreal returning by Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Rowland will live at 612 Centre St., in Peterborough. The bride travelled in a burgundy suit with black accessories and wore a corsage of roses.

Stirling Won Over Madoc 9-3

Stirling continued their winning ways at Belleville Arena on Tuesday night when they defeated Madoc 9-3 in the Belleville District Hockey League. The following account of the game is taken from the Ontario Intelligencer:

Two diminutive wings centred by a whirling dervish on skates paced an inspired Stirling team to an upset lopsided victory over the strong Madoc team by a 9-3 score in the second tilt.

The Meagher brothers, Al and Bery flashed up and down their respective boards with Doug Bastedo making the plays in the best line exhibition of the schedule thus far.

They accounted for eleven scoring points with Bastedo scoring three goals, and two assists, Bery getting one and one and Al one goal and three helpings. The work of the trio stood out all night, and their sensational display not only disorganized the opposition but inspired their mates to a collectively fine effort.

Both teams played wide-open hockey all night, but the fast pace held on the Madoc team in the third period and they faded as the flying Stirling forwards raced in for five goals with but a single return.

The first period was productive of close checking fast hockey with Doug Bastedo getting the only goal of the heat when he took Al Meagher's pass to ram home the biscuit at the eight-minute mark. Bastedo scored his second goal of the night two minutes after the second heat opened, but McInroy got one back on Williams pass inside the blue line. Bery Meagher and G. Leonard added a couple more with Holway circling the Stirling net for a pretty goal to make the period score 4-2.

The third period saw the red-shirted clan of Stirling flash through for four goals in the first 13 minutes of play. Cousins scored for Madoc with four minutes to go but B. Bastedo chalked up the 9th Stirling marker from Trumble's pass close in.

Madoc was thwarted time after time by the fine work of Bridgeman in the Stirling nets, while Hearn, although nine pucks went past him, also made some brilliant saves. G. Leonard also turned in a fine effort for Stirling as did Utman, Lavender and Trumble.

Goyer stood out for the Madoc crew along with Williams and Bill Holoway.

The Teams

MADOC: goal, Hearn; defence, Langelle, Baldwin; centre, Goyer; wings, Williams, Holoway; subs, Cousins, Goodchild; J. Thompson, C. Thompson, Keller, Nickle, McInroy.

STIRLING: goal, Bridgeman; defence, Utman, Armstrong; centre, E. Leonard; wings, G. Leonard, B. Meagher; subs, A. Meagher, D. Bastedo, B. Bastedo, Lavender, Trumble, Desjars, Stapley, Mason.

The officials were: "Speedy" St. Louis, and "Toots" Holoway.

Duncan Heads Trent League

At the annual meeting of the Trent Valley Hockey League, Art Duncan was re-elected president for the 1947-1948 season. Phil Taylor of Campbellford was elected vice-president, while Les J. Farrell, of Batavia, will serve as secretary-treasurer.

It was decided at the meeting to limit the loop to centres of under 5,000 population, which would exclude Trenton, Belleville, and Peterboro teams that had signified their intention of entering.

Teacher-Student Fellowship Praised By Valedictorian At Commencement

Awards and Diplomas Presented — Dr. W. J. Dunlop, of Toronto, Guest Speaker

"In a great nation such as Canada there is an opportunity for everyone and it is the duty of every good citizen to equip himself as well as possible to take his place in society and to make Canada great," stated Ruth Rose, who is a student at Queen's University, in her Valedictory address at the annual Commencement of Stirling High School held on Monday night in the Stirling Community Hall.

"None of us will ever forget the first day of school in September 1941, when as a class we entered Stirling High School for the first time and were awed by new teachers, new faces and the strange school. Next September found us back at school, but a wonderful transition had taken place. Instead of timid first formers we were hard-boiled second formers. Each year we took a big step forward until we reached fifth form and the supreme test — the Departmentals. Hence five years slipped by like five months but we have memories which time cannot take from us.

Tribute to Teachers

"Success in any field depends on good guidance. Our success was due to the efforts and skillful teaching of the staff. First and foremost of the staff was Mr. Good, who was our principal for our five high school years. He never failed to give us encouragement, help and good advice and was always behind any project, either recreational or academic, of which the student body was in favour. Deep in our hearts we shall always have fond memories of Miss Linnen, Mrs. Haig, Mr. Garrison and Mr. Munro, who prepared us for our departmentals. I have never known four more efficient teachers and four better friends.

"These are trying times when our whippersnappers threaten our very existence. In order to keep peace, Canada must be able to get along with other nations successfully. She cannot hope to do this unless we as individuals can learn to live together harmoniously at home and at school. An extremely valuable part of education to be got in school or college is not what is found in books but what comes from social relations with your teachers and your fellow students.

"We have been companions for five years, five years of diligent study, social fellowship and pleasant recreation, five years of mental and physical improvement. Some of us have chosen to go on studying, some are learning the art of teaching others but, whatever our chosen profession, we shall always remember Stirling High School where we learned to face the future with hearts full of confidence, remembering that labour is the law of happiness and in knowledge is power."

Mr. J. L. Good, principal, acted as chairman, and after the address of welcome introduced H. R. Tompkins, chairman of the Board of Education, who briefly addressed the assembly.

Native of Stirling Dies In Waterloo

Word was received by friends here on Monday of the death of Dr. Frank
C. Zwick at his home in Waterloo,
Ont., on Sunday.

The late Dr. Zwick was a native of Stirling, where his father practised medicine for many years, and was in his 54th year. A graduate in medicine went to Waterloo in 1923 after internship at St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto. He was a veteran of the First Great War and had been ill for some time.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter.

and assisted in the presentation of diplomas and prizes won during the year.

Dr. W. J. Dunlop
Guest Speaker

Dr. W. J. Dunlop, B.A., B.Paed. F.
C.I., L.L.D., Director of University Extension University of Toronto, was the guest speaker and delighted his audience with an address which was directed particularly to the students. Interspersing his remarks with bits of humour, Dr. Dunlop proved an interesting speaker.

In his opening remarks he reminded the students of the necessity for hard work, using their time to the best advantage, to prepare themselves for the future. "If you do not get everything that Stirling High School has to give you right through Grade XIII, you will be sorry in the future, because there is nothing you can get without Grade XIII standing." He also cautioned the students against dropping any subjects on the curriculum.

"In order to make a success of life
there is, something more important than education and that is personality," stated the speaker. Try conscientiously to develop a good personality by failing to have a grudge, by doing things the best you can, by practising real religion and leaning to mix well. Be diplomatic, have special interests and above all learn to think for yourself.

Three numbers were sung by the school choir under the direction of Mr. D. H. Garrison, with Gena Vander-water at the piano, including "Moonlight and Roses," in which Misses Marilyn Eggleton and Joan McCurdy sang a duet part; "Good Bye My Lover, Good Bye," and "My Old Kentucky Home," with Miss Margery Hagerty soloist. The school orchestra consisting of Ross Mason, Benny Mason, Ross Hermiston, Jack Rose and Marilyn Eggleton also contributed several numbers to the programme.

The entire programme was one of which the students and members of the staff may well feel proud and they are to be congratulated upon its excellence and the success of their efforts.

A list of the awards may be found on page seven of this issue.

Helen Dunham Weds Gordon A. Peelow

Pink and white was the color scheme for an arch, banked with potted plants and white 'mums, at the ham, Wellman's Corners, when their daughter, Hazel Maxine, became the

Horn Blowing Overdone Says Highway Official

Use your head not your horn, is the advice of a chief official of the Ontario Department of Highways to impatient and unthinking motorists who misuse their automobile horns.

"At least seventy-five per cent of this horn blowing is unnecessary," he claims, explaining that the horn is meant as a warning signal to be used in cases of emergency at the driver's discretion. It is not meant as a substitute for good manners or common sense.

He emphasizes that relying on the horn to clear a path is a dangerous and selfish practice and in particular he accuses the motorist who, without checking speed, expects children at play to scatter out of the way at the sound of the horn. This type of driving is a menace to public safety, he believes, and should be dealt with harshly.

Following is the address:
Dear Harold and Bernice:

In a somewhat different manner, we
the charivari gang from the east end, have invaded your home tonight to wish you bon voyage on your new journey through life.

We do not know you perhaps as well as others, but as you come to Stirling to visit your parents, we hope to be-token of our esteem towards you and to wish you a long, happy and prosperous married life, we ask you

Uncle Hy Says

(Copyright 1947, H. M. Moore)

The robins that in summer time were much about my garden plot, by now are in a warmer clime, and just as busy like as not, but lest they think me most unkind, I'm getting something off my mind.

This fall when berry canes were red, and I lay snugly in my bed, the robins swooped across my wall, and filled themselves nor was that all, they sat high in the trees nearby and cast a most disdainful eye.

They raised my ire, oh, yes, they did and I got stones and then I hid, I pelted 'em, chased 'em away, and this kept up day after day, I'm sorry now I was so stern, and how I'd welcome their return.

SHOOTS AT MOTHER

Everywhere in Canada—in villages, towns, metropolitan centres—you can find them.

They are the people—1,500,000 strong—in every walk of life who are building their futures and doing their day-to-day financing by saving or borrowing at the Bank of Montreal.

Every member of this B of M family has a hand in building the resources of the Bank while he builds his own future. These resources, which amount to nearly two billion dollars, exist almost entirely because of the balances these people can show you in their B of M passbooks.

This money does not stand idle... it works constantly for the building of the nation.

Here is the money that makes the wheels of commerce turn... that helps the farmer garner his crops... that helps the lumberman buy equipment and pay his men.

Here are the dollars that enable the Bank to make more than 500 personal loans every business day of the year to men and women who need money to meet emergencies and take advantage of opportunities.

Here is the credit that provides thousands of business enterprises—from the largest company to the smallest one-man show—with the ready money they need to buy raw materials for manufacture, to pay wages while awaiting returns from the sale of finished goods, and to carry out plans for expansion.

To citizens on salaries... to farmers with seasonal incomes... to merchants, manufacturers and businessmen in every worthwhile line of endeavour... to municipalities, school boards and governments... to churches, hospitals and all types of public institutions... hundreds of millions of dollars are being lent by B of M managers at more than 500 branches from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

These millions of transactions add up to a billion-dollar story that makes interesting reading—not so much on account of the figures involved, but because of the human stories behind them.

For 130 years Canadians have put their trust in the B of M. Never in that time has the Bank failed to repay a dollar left in its care... never has it failed to open for business on a single banking day.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

HOW TO KEEP APPLES GOOD IN THE HOME

Many householders may be discouraged from buying apples in large quantities because the fruit becomes withered and tasteless if kept for any length of time. This is caused chiefly by loss of moisture from the apple. The air in most houses is usually too dry for good storage, and because of this dry condition, the moisture in the apple escapes through these small pores in the skin. As this moisture contains most of the fresh aromatic flavour of the apple, its loss causes the fruit to become wrinkled and tasteless.

Through the efforts of the Horticultural Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, and other research organizations, commercial cold storage plants are improving their methods for retaining the fresh quality of apples. If consumers wish to benefit from these modern storage improvements, they too must give attention to how the fruit can be kept best in the home, says W. R. Phillips, who specializes in a study of fruit storage for the Division of Horticulture.

There are two ways to prevent moisture and flavour loss in apples, he says. One, low temperature and high humidity, the method used in commercial storage is helpful, but is difficult and frequently impracticable in the home. The second method, more suited to the home, is to use a container which will hold the moisture in the apple. Cellophane bags or glass jars can be used for this purpose. If glass jars are used, the tops should be left loose so that the apples do not suffocate. If apples are stored in this way and the containers are kept in the refrigerator, the fruit will retain its fresh flavour and appearance for a reasonable time.

If it is desired to store larger quantities of apples in the home some helpful suggestions will be found in the publication, "The Construction and Operation of a Home Storage for Fruits and Vegetables," available from the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. It is Publication 743.

FARM SEED SUPPLY ENOUGH FOR 1948

Supplies of almost all kinds of seeds are adequate for domestic use in 1948, and surpluses of most kinds over domestic requirements are available for export. There is an active export demand, and forage and vegetable crop seeds will be readily absorbed in the United States, United Kingdom and Continental European countries.

While export permit control is still in effect for some seeds, control has been lifted on most of them, but as indications point to a large export trade, farmers and others would be well advised to procure supplies now for use in 1948, says officials of the Plant Products Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The 1947 production, domestic requirements and exportable surplus, of cereals and oil varieties of flax produced from crops eligible for registration and Certification is estimated as follows—all figures in bushels: Wheat, production 2,760,000, domestic requirements 960,000, probable export surplus 1,800,000; Oats, production 2,900,000, domestic requirements 1,000,000, probable export surplus 1,900,000; Barley, production 1,370,000, domestic requirements 465,000, probable export surplus 905,000; Flax, production 400,000, domestic requirements 56,000, probable export surplus 344,000.

The 1947 production of alfalfa seed is estimated to be 11 million pounds, the largest crop on record. It is expected that the United States will absorb up to 5 million pounds at prices somewhat lower than last year. Because of the small crop of double cut red clover seed in Eastern Canada, it is expected that alfalfa seed of Western origin will be used where practicable as a substitute. Surplus alfalfa and red clover seed of Alberta origin will move to the United States, and some European countries.

Other clovers and grasses, such as sweet clover, timothy, brome and crested wheat grass, are in good supply, and surpluses will be shipped to the usual export markets, chiefly the United States.

The production of vegetable seeds has been reduced as planned, because of the curtailment of contracts for export. However, adequate quantities of those vegetable seeds which can be economically produced in Canada are available for the domestic trade, and some surpluses, particularly peas, onions and carrots are moving for export to European countries, where growing conditions in 1946-47 resulted in shortages.

PREVENT DISEASE TO FARM ANIMALS

Diseases which attack Canadian farm animals arise from three main causes: Many diseases, such as tuberculosis and contagious abortion, are caused by invisible microbes or germs which may be transmitted from one animal to another. Some diseases are due to animal parasites, such as round worms, tapeworms, lice, fleas and coccidia. The third are deficiency diseases, which develop when some of the essential substances such as minerals, or vitamins, are absent in ration. Even though no actual deficiency disease may arise, an animal lacking these substances may become so poor in health that it will be susceptible to other types of disease.

Prevention is better than cure. Among the preventive measures, suitable buildings, good ventilation, and sanitary surroundings are important in maintaining health. In districts where mineral or vitamin deficiencies are known to exist, special rations should be provided to avoid or overcome nutritional disease. If an infectious disease occurs, the suggested methods of control should be followed to limit and guard against the spread of infection through the herd or flock. Perhaps the most important preventive measure is to avoid the introduction on healthy premises of animals from infected sources, or from herds or flocks whose health is unknown or uncertain.

Results of Farm Forum Discussions

"I was amazed at the number of Forums who said they didn't belong to any organization outside of Farm Forum," said Mr. V. S. Milburn, Secretary of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, commenting on the results of the discussions on November 17th.

There were between 50 and 60 organizations represented by the rest of the Forum people across Ontario. Mr. Milburn went on to say that the Federation stood willing to meet people half way to remedy the situation but under present conditions was unable to do all they would like to.

The reports indicated that by and large women and farm young people took very little part in Township and County organizations outside the Women's Institutes and Junior Farmers respectively. Mr. Milburn suggested to this that it was high time we began to respect their opinions and regard them as individuals. Furthermore that we as farm people must make it our business to see that they are given an active part to play.

Over 70 groups came to the same decision as that of Mr. Milburn by stating "give the Young People and Women folk responsibility by asking them to take part if you want their co-operation. About 50 groups recommended that young people should be encouraged to get training early in life by participating in Boys and Girls Club work. Then there would be little doubt in their inability to take an active part later.

From all the reports received less than half of the forums had any suggestions as to how they could improve or stimulate interest in the organizations.

However, several groups indicated that to encourage them to attend the meetings there must be appeal, by having topics of interest, along with recreation.

Among some of the other suggestions put forth was the importance of a system of changing the officials in an organization regularly, thus giving young people the opportunity to advance as they gained experience. This is something that is sadly lacking across the province at the present time according to the Forums.

Place For Front Plate

(Ontario Bulletin)

Motorists are advised by the Ontario Motor Vehicle Licences Branch to check their equipment to make sure they have the front licence bracket to carry the new 1948 plates which are to be issued for front and rear of the vehicle. During the war years, and including this year, only the rear plates have been carried on vehicles.

J. P. Bickell, registrar of motor vehicle licences, explained that many vehicles, even new vehicles, are not equipped with the front bracket. Owners of older cars in some instances have been found to have discarded the front brackets.

The report was judged to be the best in the Canadian transportation industry by a board of independent judges who surveyed 3500 annual reports of North American business firms and establishments. The presentation, above, took place during a banquet held at New York, recently, and was made by Weston Smith, right, vice-president of Financial World.

RESIGN JOBS

It is understood in this capital that several cameramen of the National Film Board have resigned their jobs because of a recent order prohibiting them from competing with commercial photographers and more resignations may be forthcoming. There have been complaints heard here that some photographers of the NFB had used their "free" time and equipment of the NFB to offer such competition to commercial operators.

Marmora To See Battle For Reeve

Through more than the necessary number of nominees qualifying on Saturday, electors of Marmora will go to the polls on Monday, December 1st, to decide who shall represent the village as Reeve and Councillors for 1948. Reeve R. E. Neal, who has served in that capacity for two years was returned unopposed last year. Vincent Lynch, who was defeated by Reeve Neal two years ago, is opposing him again. With some years of experience as a former councillor like the present Reeve, the fight will be a stiff one, with no one feeling safe in forecasting the result. Of last year's councillors, Warden Chrysler withdrew from the contest. Ritchie Wells and Leslie Rundle are again candidates but a new councillor will be found for the seat of Thomas Dickson, who moved to Oshawa in the summer. Three new aspirants are Fred S. Johnston, a councillor of several years gone by; John Reynolds and Major Percy Gray.

The three public trustees for two years were given acclamation, namely, Donald P. Maret, H. A. Burwash and W. D. Lavender. Fred R. Wells was also given acclamation as Hydro commissioner.

Accidents on Farms Cause Annual Loss of Million Man-Hours

It is often forgotten that farming is a hazardous occupation, and that the danger of accidents and fires is greater than in most other industries. Until recently, no accurate figures were available on the number of accidents and fires on Canadian farms, but at the request of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, recently made a survey covering the period June, 1946 to June 1947. Naturally not all the farmers throughout Canada could be interviewed to obtain the information but a simplifying method used which from past statistical experience is known to give accurate results. Although the investigation covered a definite period, it is considered to be representative of any 12 month period. Because of certain practical difficulties in enumeration, fatal accidents are not included.

It is somewhat surprising to find that the loss of time from productive work, due to accidents to heads of farm households and all other persons employed fully or partially around farms, is probably in excess of one million man-days each year. The heads of households, who normally would be the farm operators, lose 600,000 man-days. During the 12 months under review 37,200 persons suffered from accidents and a number of these were far from trivial. Over one-third of the accidents were severe enough to cause lay-offs from work of from one to three weeks, and 45 per cent necessitated absences of from three to ten weeks. Eight hundred heads of households, and 1,300 others were disabled for life, and 400 heads of households were permanently incapacitated.

As might be expected, the period of the year has a decided bearing on the occurrence of farm accidents: they were fewer in the three winter months of November, December and January. May was the highest month with 14 per cent of the annual accidents, October had 10 per cent, February 9 per cent and the remaining six months averaged 8 per cent each.

The accidental injury of persons of working age has more adverse effect on agricultural production than accidents which happen either to young or old persons. From the survey it is estimated that 31.5 per cent of the accidents were to persons between the ages of 25 and 44, and 25.3 per cent to persons from 45 to 64 years of age. The three age groups, under 14 years, 14 to 19 years, and 20 to 24 years, suffered 12.6 per cent of the accidents in each group, and persons of 65 and over, had 5.4 per cent of the accidents.

Workers Coming From Holland

A. O. Dalrymple, Agricultural Representative for Hastings County has announced that it is expected that a number of experienced farmers will immigrate to Canada from Holland early in the new year. There will be both married and single men coming to this country and it is expected that the wages will be minimum of $50 for a single man and $75, along with a free house, for married men. It is suggested that farmers interested in this type of help either contact their local agricultural representative or Mr. John Vellinga, who is in charge of the Netherlands Immigration Foundation, Box 7, Chatham.

It is of interest to know that one family that recently arrived in this country was in the German occupied zone. The immigrant was a farmer who did not wish to co-operate with the Germans and as a result all of his livestock was taken and all of his buildings burned by the enemy during the last war.

Would Tax Outside Firms

A weakness in the municipal tax set-up of Canadian towns, cities and townships seems to be that whereas local business firms and even tradesmen who sell or carry on their skills for profit are forced to pay not only property and school taxes, but business taxes as well, says the St. Mary's Journal Argus. This, says the paper, is fine up to a certain point, and no complaints can be made if everyone has to pay equally or in proportion; but this is not so in a good many cases, especially in regard to outside workmen or artisans and larger firms who carry on contracting businesses.

These people often do a great deal of work in a municipality and take away a larger income than many local firms, but they pay nothing into the coffers of the municipality, although they use the roads, and other facilities provided by the tax-payers' money. Until changes are made in the Municipal Act there seems no way to catch up with these transient business folk unless it be by a system of municipal licensing and this is a difficult matter to enforce. —The Journal Argus.

NO SCANDAL HERE

Ever since the resignation of Chancellor of the Exchequer, Hugh Dalton, of Britain, due to a "leak" if information in advance of the actual budget presentation in Parliament, it has caused much discussion on Parliament Hill here, with the talk emphasizing the fact that never in Canada's entire history has there occurred a scandal of this sort or a proven "leak" of advance information. Budget provisions are carefully guarded secrets in Canada, and aside from the usual oath of secrecy binding all civil servants, this good record has been achieved through voluntary efforts on the part of officials or employees of the Canadian Government.

BEHIND THE CRISIS

It is learned in informed quarters backstage in Ottawa that what has been announced in sensational headlines so far about the trade and tariff agreements entered into by the Canadian Government as well as the drastic actions taken by the latter to conserve exchange are only preliminary moves and that even more far-reaching actions or decisions will become known later when these proposals are developed in detail in the coming session of Parliament starting December 5th.

The immediate drastic emergency measures already disclosed by the Canadian Government are part of carefully conceived plans for "dollar diplomacy" to bridge the gap until the far more important long-range plans for self-sufficiency can be put into operation, with officials here emphasizing with absolute certainty that these measures are only temporary, perhaps, continuing for only a few months and possibly lasting from eighteen months to two years, according to some experts. This will depend on a multitude of factors, almost too many to be repeated in this column. In any case, import restrictions, a curb on tourist spending, special excise taxes, credit arrangements in other countries, etc., are all part of the "dollar diplomacy" moves and these will gradually disappear as soon as conditions will allow. There is no doubt about their disappearance as soon as possible because these restrictions are not popular and unwanted, though the authorities here are compelled to accept them for the moment only.

However, the really important news here, say officials, is the creation of plans to change Canada's economic blueprint to become a self-sufficient nation as much as possible and what will be done in the long run in this respect is all-important for every man, woman and child in this country it will affect their way of life, their standard of living for many years. Of course, the immediate actions have been a sharp detour from the proclaimed objectives of trade expansion and opportunities provided in the new series of tariff and trade agreements. These drastic emergency measures will bring painful and mixed feelings. Still when the whole plan will become known, possibly in the new session of Parliament in December a better understanding may exist of these actions.

For months and months, while much criticism was levelled against the authorities here, it was known among veteran observers along Parliament Hill that officials all along the line were working day and night to create plans not merely to solve the serious exchange problems but to work out details how Canadians may live amid plenty in a world of scarcity. They knew that to ignore outside economic events or developments meant living in a fool's paradise, especially since about one-third of every dollar earned by Canadians came from exports. They know, too, that people in this country did not always realize how much of their own economic welfare was dependent in whole or in part on the economic welfare of their best customers in other lands. Bluntly, the officials tell everything when plans were only being considered, not yet completely decided until quite recently.

The 1947 Report On The Bank of Montreal

Again this year, following a practice it originated, the Bank of Montreal has come forward with a well-illustrated, easily understandable bank statement for the benefit of its more than 1,500,000 depositors. Unique among bank statements, the report, which covers the 130 year of the Bank of Montreal's career, can be read with complete understanding by everyone.

In the explanation of "the facts behind the figures," the bank emphasizes that money deposited does not lie idle, but works constantly for the building of the nation.

"Here is the money that makes the wheels of commerce turn," the report points out. "Here is the money that helps the farmer garner his crops... that helps the lumberman buy equipment and pay his men. Here are the dollars that enable the bank to make more than 500 personal loans every business day of the year to men and women who need money to meet emergencies and take advantages of opportunities."

The statement is also brightened considerably by the addition of little thumbnail sketches throughout, and the use of simple, everyday language in place of the more formal financial terms usually found in bank reports. For example, bank assets are referred to as "What the Bank of Montreal Has to Meet Obligations," while liabilities are simply "What the Bank of Montreal Owes to Others." Likewise, the explanatory notes under each sub-heading are clear and to the point.

Deposits at New High

Deposits of $1,783,000,000 again set an all-time high, showing an increase of $47,000,000 over the previous year, and demonstrating the way in which Canadians are endeavouring to meet the danger of inflation.

This statement of Canada's senior financial institution reflects the general trend of business activity throughout the country. For example, commercial loans increased by 39 per cent, denoting the nation's expanding peacetime production. The financing of this expansion has been accompanied by a reduction of holding of government and other public securities, which now stand at $957,000,000.

Heightened industrial activity brought about the increasing production of peacetime goods found the bank participating to a much greater extent in commercial financing, with holding of industrial bonds and debentures increased from $56,000,000 in 1946 to $96,000,000 for the year ended October 31st, 1947.

Enlargement of the bank's facilities through the construction of new branches and the renovation of premises in various parts of Canada is manifested in a substantial rise in the value of its premises which, at $13,000,000, has increased by nearly three million dollars.

All of these factors add up to give the bank record-breaking resources of $1,898,000,000. This figure exceeds its obligations to the public by $81,097,000.

Graphic Earning Statement

Another innovation in the report is the earnings statement which gives in detail — down to the fraction of the cent — the distribution made of the year's earnings in relation to the shareholders' invested dollar.

After paying all overhead expenses, including staff salaries, bonuses, and contributions to the pension fund, and after making provision for contingencies, and for depreciation of bank premises, furniture and equipment, the Bank of Montreal reports earnings for the year amounting to $9,579,285. To provide the Dominion Provincial taxes, the bank set aside $4,156,000, leaving net earnings of $5,423,285, compared with $4,487,000 last year. Of this, $3,600,000 was distributed to shareholders, with the balance of $1,823,285 transferred to the profit and loss account.

On each dollar of the shareholders' money invested in the Bank of Montreal, the bank earned 11.81 cents in 1947. Of this, 5.12 cents were paid in taxes, 4.43 cents went to shareholders, and the remaining 2.26 cents went to surplus.

WEEKLY WIND-UP

Preliminary consultations have already taken place in Ottawa between the newly appointed Parliamentary Assistants and the Ministers as preparations formulate for the new session starting December 5th.

Hello Homemakers! Entertaining may be poured into an unbaked pie shell, and makes one medium pie.

APPLESAUCE CAKE
1 cup shortening, 1 cup white sugar, 1 cup corn syrup, 2 egg yolks (unbeaten), 2 cups pastry flour, 1 tsp. baking soda, 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1 tsp. cloves, 1 tsp. nutmeg, 1 cup thick applesauce (unsweetened).

Cream shortening; add sugar and syrup. Add egg yolks; blend well. Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices. Add to creamed mixture alternately with applesauce. Pour into pan 8" x 8" x 2" lined with waxed paper and greased. Bake in an electric oven at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

THE QUESTION BOX
Mrs. J. M. Asks: Why does a crack form between the jar and the wax on top of jelly?

Answer: Glass contracts 10 times as much as wax per degree of cooling. Therefore, let the jar of jam partially cool then add wax that is melted over warm water. Put on a thin film and when cold add another layer of melted wax.

Mrs. J. E. asks: Can you scallop turnips?

Answer: Scalloped Turnips: Slice raw turnips fairly thin and place in layers in a greased casserole. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and a little nutmeg. Add milk to within an inch of the top of casserole. Sprinkle 1 tbsp. grated cheese and 1 cup fine bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven, 375 degrees, for 1 hour.

Mrs. C. D. asks for Weiner and Macaroni Salad.

WEINER AND MACARONI SALAD
1 cup raw macaroni in 2" pieces, 4 cups boiling water, 4 tsp. salt, 5 weiners (1 lb.), 1 cup well-seasoned French Dressing, 2 tsp. minced onion, 2 tsp. lemon juice, 1 cup diced celery, 1 cup cucumber, 1 tbsp. slivered green pepper, 1 cup diced tomatoes, 1 cup mayonnaise, speck pepper, 1 head lettuce, shredded.

Cook macaroni tender in the boiling water, to which 3 tsp. salt have been added. Five minutes before macaroni is done, add weiners; cook 5 mins. longer. Then drain. Remove weiners, and rinse macaroni in boiling water. Cut weiners in inch pieces. Chill weiners and macaroni. Toss all ingredients together just before serving. Serves 4.

ANNUAL GET-TOGETHER JUNIOR FARMERS

The Hastings County Junior Farmers' Association is holding its second annual Get-Together in the Armouries, Madoc, on Friday, November 27th, at 8 p.m.

The objects of this Get-Together are to present the awards to those who have taken part in all phases of junior work during the year and at the same time acquaint the parents and friends of the juniors with just what is being done by the Junior Farmers, Junior Institute members and club boys and girls.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Mr. A. H. Martin, who has in the past done much to bring the standards of the Ontario Junior Farmers' Association up to the present standing and who is at present Secretary of this Association as well as being Associate Director of the Agricultural Representative Branch, Toronto.

Arrangements have been made to have a variety of musical numbers as well as other entertainment, and a light lunch will be served by the Cooper Girls' Club following the presentation.

There will be an admission fee of 35 cents to cover any incidental expenses.

INCREASED PRICES

We often get the idea that increased prices get sort of magnified when they go into a product.

For instance, we would like to repeat that President Hilton of the Steel Co. of Canada, estimates the following results from the increased price of steel over pre-war rates.

He revealed that the higher price of steel would mean only a 76-cent increase in the costs of manufacturing an electric stove, 81 cents for an electric refrigerator, $15.05 more for an automobile, $1.20 more for an office desk, $6.45 more for a medium farm tractor, eight cents more for a garbage can and 56 cents more for a lawn mower. —Toronto Telegram.

Former Editor J. Black, Dies

(Montreal Star)

John Munroe Black, former rotogravure editor of the Standard and at one time a reporter on The Star, died November 17th in Kingston Hospital in his 78th year. Mr. Black retired from active newspaper work about 11 years ago and went to reside with his brother, Charles D. Black, of Kingston. His health began to fail shortly after, and for a long time he was unable to leave his room until he was removed to hospital.

Born in Stirling, Ont., on June 2, 1870, he was the son of John S. Black and Ella-Jane Mariman, and was educated in the local school. He started his newspaper career as a young man in Belleville on what is now the Ontario-Intelligencer, and then went to Bowmanville, afterwards working for a time on a Toronto newspaper. He came to Montreal in 1892 and joined The Montreal Star as a reporter, one of his first big assignments being the funeral of Sir John A. Macdonald at Kingston. In 1905 he joined The Standard and had charge of its photographic section. In 1935 he went to England to cover the Jubilee of King George V. Mr. Black was a lay reader of the Montreal Diocese of the Church of England in Canada, and was a great friend of the late Bishop Farthing and Bishop Carmichael. He was interested in youth work and even while he was in poor health he would have frequent gatherings of young people in his rooms.

He is survived by two brothers, C. D. Black, of Kingston, and Byrne M. Black, of Nanawee, Ont., and one sister, Mrs. Robert Kerr, of Stirling, Ont. Robert Kerr, of Montreal, J. Ralph Black, Belleville, John S. Black, Nanawee, and Harry Kerr, Toronto, are nephews and Miss Lenore Black, of Kingston, and Mrs. James Allen, Kingston, nieces.

The funeral took place from St. George's Cathedral Wednesday afternoon, November 19th. The Very Rev. A. T. Briarly Browne officiated and was assisted by Archdeacon J. H. H. Coleman and Rev. Harvey Scuse.

Pall bearers were Henry Hill, Douglas Burns, George Maybee, Jack Woodrow, John Dedrich and Morris Soutter. The cathedral choir, under the direction of George Maybee, was in attendance.

The service opened with a motet, "O How Glorious" by Dr. Healey Willan and the hymn, "My God How Wonderful Thou Art," followed the reading of the lesson. The choir sang an anthem "God Be In My Heart and In My Understanding" before the blessing.

The funeral proceeded to Stirling where interment was made in Stirling Cemetery. Rev. Cyril Brazill, of Stirling, officiated at the grave.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:-

The following is a resume of a discussion on free enterprise held by a group of student veterans, all of whom served four or five years overseas. It is written for those who complain that the veteran is a socialist or, at least, has a leaning in that direction.

The veteran, in his belief in individual freedom, the belief in the worth of the individual, belief in the right to lead his own life without interference within the bounds of law accepted military regimentation and served without complaint for five years of hell.

Now he is back. Does he complain? Does he ask for anything more than he had when he left? All he asks is that he be allowed to take up where he left off, to continue his studies, to have a job with fair wages and to be allowed to live without interference as he strives to get a home and a few luxuries that you have. He doesn't want them handed to him on a silver platter, he knows that he can get them through work and he knows that they are worth working for, the same as his freedom was worth fighting for. That is his belief in free enterprise.

The veteran is starting out now with five or six years to make up for. Had it not been for the war he would have had his home and a few luxuries. He is dead serious in this business of making a living and believes in a fair profit for capital but he also believes that it is up to capital to provide the opportunities whereby he can have the way of life he fought for.

The veteran believes in free enterprise because basically it is what he fought for but should he find that it does not fulfill his needs, that he cannot obtain a home and a few luxuries, that he is not receiving a wage in comparison with what he produces and becomes a slave to his job while capital makes enormous profits then, undoubtedly, he will turn to a new philosophy.

When you feel that the veteran has a leaning toward socialism just remember that it is in your power to mould his thoughts along your way of life by providing opportunities whereby he can maintain the standard of living he fought for. If the veteran goes socialist you will have only yourself to blame. Years out of his life and all that he asks of you is opportunity and a fair return for his labours.

Yours sincerely,

R. J. Gratrix.

Hastings Holstein At Royal Winter Fair

Herbert Watt, of Foxboro, showed the 4th prize Jr. Bull Yearling at the Royal Winter Fair in the Holstein class. This class was headed by the Junior Champion.

Upsets featured the Holstein exhibit at the Royal Winter where both of last years Grand Champions were defeated and an unheralded entry from Eastern Ontario won the Inter-Provincial Herd Competition. This was the largest Holstein show yet held at the Royal with 331 head exhibited by 88 breeders from Canada and U.S.A. Paul Misner, of Hurmerville, Pa., judged.

Resuming last years "battle of the bulls" 12 entries were shown in the Aged Bull class. "Marksman", jointly owned by J. J. E. McCague, Alliston, and G. J. Corwell, Beeton, who was defeated in 1946 by "Chip", owned by Franlo Farms, Hopkins, Minn., turned the tables this time and then went on to take the Grand Championship. His son, "Albert" was named Reserve Grand Champion after heading the two-year-olds. Albert recently topped the All-Canadian Sale at $11,500 going from R. H. McIlquham, Lanark and J. J. E. McCague, Alliston, Ont., to Rodolfo Jamarillo, Santiago, Chile.

"Sovereign", owned by T. R. Dent and Clarke E. Brown, Woodstock, was third. Glenvue Noelle Inka, bred by D. S. Dutton, Brampton, Ont., and now owned by Solano Rios, of Uruguay, beat last year's Grand Champion "Rosehill Fayne Wayne" in the milking Aged Cow class. These two cows then went on to the Grand and Reserve Grand Championships. "Rosehill" took the Grand Championship in 1946 for J. D. Innes, Woodstock, Ont., and was then sold to her present owner, Franlo Farms.

Junior Championship bull was Spring Farm Sovereign Supreme, a son of "Sovereign" owned by J. M. G. W. and W. D. Fraser, Streetsville, was an outstanding Junior Champion with a "Sovereign" grandson as Reserve Champion for F. Pelletier, Milton, Ont. Pickard and Clarke, Acme, Alta., took the Junior Female Championship on Swallowwell Texal Bess with the Reserve Junior award going to J. A. McDowell, Oxford Centre, on a Sovereign grand-daughter, Centreview Sovereign June.
